

May 26, 1941.

Dear Hayden:

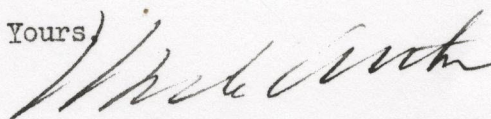

If you ever hear of my being arrested it will be for stealing menus for you. So you had better save your pennies to bail your uncle out.

At any rate here are two which I hope are not duplicates.

Tell Nana that I was in Rochester this week for about twenty four hours. I went up on the night train Wednesday night and got back on the night train Thursday night. But I didn't have a chance to go to see any of her old landmarks.

Best wishes to you all.

Yours,

L.L.