New and cost efficient computers save energy

by Charlie Miller
Special to the Herald

With the arrival of the new computers and printers at the Harborside Labs, Academic Computer Services has entered the "green PC" era. The new computers, built especially for Johnson & Wales University by Ocean State Computers of Providence, are Energy Star-compliant. This Department of Energy and Environmental Protection Agency standard is designed to be environmentally friendly by reducing power consumption during periods of non-use. To meet the standard, a computer must be able to reduce power consumption to less than 60 watts.

An Energy Star-compliant computer has three built in features which are all designed to reduce energy usage when your computer is idle. All three work off timers that you can preset. The first will shut off the beam in the monitor after a preset time of no screen input. This is the major energy saver in the group as the monitor, using up to 30,000 volts, consumes the most power (your screen saver does not save any energy. It only keeps an image from being burned in to the screen).

The second timer monitors the activity of the hard disk. After the preset time with no calls to the hard disk, the computer powers down the hard disk and saves more power and wear and tear on the hard disk.

The third timer puts the central processing unit to sleep after the preset time. It reduces the clock speed (33 MHz in the Harborside Labs) to 8 MHz. In effect, the computer does and saves power when not being tasked. Naturally, all three "wake up" when a change in computer status happens. Tapping the keyboard wakes up the monitor and the CPU and any call to disk will wake up the hard drive.

The printers, Epson LQ-570's, have a feature which allows you to roll the paper up to tear off your work. We estimate we'll save three boxes of paper each year in the Harborside Labs alone with this feature.

Any further computer and printer purchases will be made with these standards in mind. They save money in the long run and also help preserve our dwindling natural resources.

JWU buys another piece of downtown

by Brandi Baran
Staff Writer

Johnson & Wales University purchased the Arcade, which is said to be the oldest enclosed shopping center in the country, on February 9 for $76,000. This sale price is only a fraction of the $3 million Gilbane Properties paid in renovations in 1983. Wayne M. Kezian, a lawyer for the university, explained this low price by stating the Arcade has been losing money and the price of the land was not included in the sale.

Although the acquisition of the Arcade was not part of the original Vision 2001, making Johnson & Wales a vital and attractive part of downtown RI, and the Arcade important part of that image. President of the Uiversity, Dr. John Yena, stated, "The University [also] realizes that it is an

Say good-bye to the 1995 Johnsonian yearbook!

Student publications department sends pages to the printer with record-breaking speed

Everyone is letting out a sigh of relief as the pages are sent off to be published. Who was worried? Administration and students pulled it all together in time for the final deadline. Yearbooks will be out in spring. Although some were doubtful that it could be done, "I knew it all along," said Lindsey Levesque with confidence. "We're a team here and team members don't let each other down. Claire, Liz, and I are grateful and proud of the students who helped make the Johnsonian '95 happen.

For graduating seniors, both associate and bachelor, you will be able to get a yearbook at no extra charge in May if you fill out the necessary card. All others who would like a copy may pay $3.50 for it. The Johnsonian office is located on the 2nd floor of the Friendship Bldg. Be sure to get here before April 28 to reserve your copy of Johnsonian '95!

Feel discriminated against?

Commission handles student legal cases -- for free that there is someone who can help them."

The process in investigating any alleged discrimination involves sitting down with the person placing the complaint, explaining in full details the situation and the investigator makes the final decision on whether it should be owned up.

Some cases of discrimination may involve a student being discriminated by another student or a school administrator, if a student has been blatantly denied housing by a landlord based on color or race, if a job supervisor has openly said racial slurs or if a club or restaurant has denied a person entry into their establishment because of color, race or creed.

All of these situation can be dealt with through the Providence Human Relations Commission. Housing, police misconduct and employment complaints are the agency's three areas where the most complaints are placed in. Public accommodations complaints continued to page 5
No snow for 'Christmas in April'
Anticipate serious renovations for Providence houses

In 1973, volunteers in Midwest, Texas decided to devote a day in April to repairing the dilapidated homes of low-income, physically challenged or elderly neighbors in their community. "Why, this is like Christmas in April," they were told. Christmas in April USA was born. This year volunteers from Brown University, Rhode Island School of Design, Providence College, Johnson & Wales University and the HELP coalition (10 independent colleges and hospitals in Providence, helping the City of Providence and its people) will renovate the homes of elderly Providence residents and people in need.

On Sat, April 29 from 8:30 am - 4:30 p.m., JWU volunteers will be plastering, painting, landscaping and doing carpentry work.

Home Depot will offer a February or March construction skills training for volunteers rehabilitating the homes. 100 volunteers are needed for the JWU Christmas in April Providence project. Call Susan Connery to sign up 596-2999.

Back by popular demand...Baby Wales

Providence, RI — February 3, 1995 — Johnson & Wales University will again be offering Baby Wales courses beginning February 4. Several seminars will be offered on topics such as Introductory to Windows, Introduction to Word Perfect, LOTUS 1-2-3, Microsoft Works, Food Service, Sanitation, How to be a Consultant and Money Matters.

These courses are non-credit classes taught by Continuing Education faculty at JWU and are for further information, please contact JWU's Continuing Education Office at (401) 598 - 1085 or 1-800-225-2454.

Founded in 1914, JWU is an accredited, private institution offering undergraduate and graduate degrees in business, foodservice, hospitality and technology. With an enrollment of more than 9,000 students, JWU is based in Providence, RI, and maintains campuses in Charleston, SC, Norfolk, VA, North Miami, FL, and Vail, CO.

Here’s a Valentine chance
To say, “I Love YOU!”

February 14th is coming soon, and we want you to tell it like it is. The Campus Herald will run a special Valentine’s Day Issue. It’s a golden opportunity for you to show that special someone just how much you care—for FREE! We’re offering you 2 to 5 lines of Valentines Rose at no charge. It’s sort of like a classified ad, only so much more special because it’s from you to that special someone.

Send your submissions to Student Publications, 2nd floor of the Friendship Building on Weybosset Street or at the front desk of McNulty Hall. All submissions must be received by noon on Monday, February 13, 1995.

What are you waiting for? Don’t be afraid to let everyone know exactly how you feel towards that special someone. Send in your “Love Line” today!

NOTE: Please make sure that all submissions are legible, or they run the risk of not being printed properly or not at all. Please fill out the following form in order to have your “Love Line” printed in next week’s issue of the Campus Herald and submit “Love Lines” c/o Lindsey Levesque or Katchena Ellis, 2nd floor, Friendship Building, Student Publications.
Delta activities include other clubs

In the month of January, Delta Epsilon Chi (DECA) held a variety of activities for members and non-members of roller skating. Around thirty-five DECA members and twenty FBLA members took part in this activity. The group took a trip to United States of America for a night and dance party. This activity was held at Shooter’s Restaurant/Club Coconuts. Around fifty members and non-members showed up to enjoy an evening of black jack, dancing, food, and winnings. There was a raffle to win gifts from The Body Shop Co., Otan Mills, and many others. There was also a canned food drive which students would bring canned foods for a reduction of the cost of the cover charge. The night turned out to be successful.

The next activity Delta Epsilon Chi held was a Casino night and dance party. This activity was held at Shooter’s Restaurant/Club Coconuts. Around fifty members and non-members showed up to enjoy an evening of black jack, dancing, food, and winnings. There was a raffle to win gifts from The Body Shop Co., Otan Mills, and many others. There was also a canned food drive which students would bring canned foods for a reduction of the cost of the cover charge. The night turned out to be successful.

DECA and December go hand in hand

December was a successful month for the Johnson & Wales Delta Epsilon Chi (DECA) Chapter. On Saturday, December 10, 1994, thirty-five members and non-members went to Lang’s Bowlarama for a night of bowling, dancing, and fun. The event was called “Rock-n-Bowl” and was organized by the state Delta Epsilon Chi Chapter. At this event, the lights went out, black lights came on, and really loud music was played throughout the night. The overall feeling of the students was great.

At the December 13th general meeting, elections were held for a new state representative. Marcus Brown came through with the most votes and will now represent Johnson & Wales Delta Epsilon Chi Chapter at the state level. At this meeting there was also a Christmas dinner served which was organized by the social committee. The dinner included lasagna, salad, garlic bread, and dessert. This was prepared by the social committee also.

On Sunday, December 18, 1994, Delta Epsilon Chi members took a trip to the Westminster Senior Center to share their Christmas spirit with the retired. The members brought Christmas gifts to the center and visited with them. Members also sang Christmas Carols to the people and put smiles on their faces. This event turned out to be a very worthy cause and warmed many hearts.

If you are interested in being a part of Johnson & Wales Delta Epsilon Chi Chapter, call X1057 for more information.

Wednesday, February 8, 1995 The Campus Herald • 3 through the 21st, about seventeen Delta Epsilon Chi members and non-members took a road trip through the mountains of New Hampshire, for skiing at Attitash Ski Resort, and shopping. Some students skied on Saturday, the 20th, some went shopping, and some just had a day of relaxation. This event turned out very fun and exciting. The students came home with lots of stories to tell and memories that will last their lifetime!!

If you are interested in becoming a Delta Epsilon Chi (DECA) member, feel free to call extension 1057 for more information.
Campaign extremely successful

To the University Community:

Thanks to you, the 1994 United Way Campaign at Johnson & Wales University was a tremendous success! Our total contributions were $555,779.85 in 1994, an increase from our 1993 total of $500,688.00. We should all be proud of the personal effort made by so many of our colleagues to improve the lives of those less fortunate than ourselves. Our own University community is enriched by the spirit of giving that was evident during this recent campaign. Johnson & Wales University continues to promote community service as an integral part of our students’ education and those of you who participated in the 1994 United Way Campaign are role models to our students. Thank you, and best wishes for a happy and healthy 1995—Dr. John A. Yenna

Experience the world with new eyes

A thought from Thomas Gaines, Director of the Multicultural Center. Our college experience and sense of community will be more fulfilling if we:

• Take classes that focus on other cultures
• Go to cultural events that focus on other cultures
• Educate ourselves about people different from us
• Challenge biases and stereotypes in our family and friends
• Resist oppression of others in any way we can
• Seek relationships with people who are different from us

These ideas and thoughts will allow us to do as Dr. Martin Luther King stated in his I Have A Dream speech and that is to judge a person by the content of their character and not the color of their skin. Volunteering opportunities are available through the Multicultural Center. Please contact us at X4776.

Letters to the Editor

Do you have something on your mind that’s really bothering you? Or is there something you feel is wrong with the University?

Then express your opinions by submitting a Letter to the Editor. All letters must be typed, double spaced and signed with a daytime phone number. Their content will be published in whole or in part at the discretion of The Campus Herald. All letters must be received by 4 p.m. on the Thursday preceding the issue you wish publication in.

Opinions expressed in this newspaper are not necessarily those of the University, the student body or The Campus Herald.

Opportunities available for Culinary students

Attention: Members or Junior Members of the American Culinary Federation.

The Ray and Gertrude Marshall Scholarship Fund provides scholarship opportunities for students who are actively engaged in food service work and plan to continue studies in the food service/hospitality industry with an emphasis on cooking, baking, or food service management.

Applicants are considered on the basis of financial need, grade point average, recommendations, and interview by local chapter.

Deadlines are February 15, and June 15.

ACF members may request a scholarship application by calling Lisa at X2370.
...the Arcade

important retail center in the downtown area. We have undertaken this project in order to maintain the Arcade for the benefit of the students, the residents of Providence, those who work in the downtown business community," he added. Many students go to the Arcade, whether it be to shop, eat or just grab a cup of coffee with friends, as do many others. The Arcade will not become solely a JWU facility, it will remain a public building. However, the University is working on potential programs. They have formed a committee to review the current maintenance and operating conditions of the building. Although some work will need to be done on the building, the University doesn’t want to make drastic changes because of its historic importance. The committee will also study all aspects of Arcade marketing and make future recommendations to enhance its potential.

The University, in a letter to arcade tenants, said it would continue to operate the Arcade as a "retail oriented facility." All existing lease commitments will remain honored by JWU. Since the decline in patronage, renters have been reluctant to sign a lease, and many didn’t. Hopefully things will change with new owners since the space will continue to be used for retailers.

The land on which the Arcade sits is owned by INSIGHT, the Rhode Island Association for the Blind and Visually Impaired. INSIGHT sold the Arcade to Gilbane in 1979. Judith Smith, the organization’s executive director, said that under a 45-year lease agreement with JWU, the university has a three-year option to buy the land for $500,000.

When asked about those who criticize JWU for buying much of downtown, Keesriam responded, "The University’s impact in the past two years has been both positive and visible." He feels the University is putting life back into the downtown economy, and he seems to be right.

Financial Aid Flowchart

1. Apply for grants and loans through free application for Federal Student Aid.
2. Receive 1995-96 SAR (a yellow, 3-part Student Aid Report) in the mail.
3. Make corrections, if necessary, and sign parts 1 and 2. If all information is correct, just sign part 1.
4. Submit SAR to Financial Planning at the Norfolk campus.
5. The main campus in Providence will send you a notice of financial assistance. This is also known as an award letter.
6. Sign the back of the award letter and return it within 10 days to Financial Planning at the Norfolk campus.
7. Main campus in Providence may request additional paperwork from you to finalize financial aid. Do not delay in sending any information requested!
8. Your financial aid is finalized. If you are eligible for loans, loan checks will be mailed to the Norfolk campus for you to sign. The loans usually come in disbursements. Borrowers will receive a loan disclosure statement explaining amount and schedule of disbursements.

If you receive Financial Aid, all of these steps must occur each year you are enrolled at Johnson & Wales University.

Greek fund raisers are here for Valentine's Day

by David Crane
Greek Correspondant

Alpha Tau Omega

We would like to thank Theta Phi Alpha and every one who else attended, for our party at Oliver's. It was fun and very successful. We would also like to thank everyone who supported us when we needed it the most. Good luck to the "Big Dogs" in intramurals.

Sigma Delta Tau

Sigma Delta Tau wants to congratulate the ETA Class. We are so proud of you! Also, congratulations to the new executive board; the best is yet to come! Thanks ZBT, we had a blast at Lupo's.

Sigma Lambda Mu

The Latin Brothers of Sigma Lambda Mu would like to wish everybody a Happy Valentine's Day. A special thanks to D Phi E for the social. Thank you to the Greek organizations and students who came to see D.C. Benny. Congratulations to our new brothers of the Sigma Mu pledge class and to all the new Greeks of Johnson & Wales University. We would like to invite everyone to hear our speaker on "African American & Latino Identity Cultural Unity" on February 7, 1995 at 7:30pm in the Multi-Cultural Center. Look out for our representatives selling Valentine's Day love grams.

Sigma Sigma Sigma

Congratulations to the Alpha class! Good job girls. Best of luck to our new E-Board.

Look for upcoming details about "Under Water Monopoly." See a Sigma sister for your Valentine's Day chocolate roses.

Tau Kappa Epsilon

First, the Brothers of Tau Kappa Epsilon would like to congratulate all the new Greek members of Johnson & Wales University. All the hard work finally paid off. Next, congratulations to the new President of Sigma Delta Tau, Janet Cameron. We all have confidence in you. Thanks to everyone who came to the Lupo's party on Saturday. We hope you all had a great time. Paolo, great job on organizing the lock in. We had a good time. Tau Kappa Epsilon would like to wish everyone a happy and safe Valentine's Day.

Are you a member of a Greek organization who would like to see more articles on Greek life? If so, donate some of your time and writing skills to The Campus Herald. Represent your organization and get involved. For more information on how you can get involved, please contact David Crane at 273-5937.

MACARONI AU FROMAGE

(EAT WITH GUSTO FOR ABOUT 51c PER SERVING.)

2 cups macaroni (pinwheels are fun) 1 cup milk
1 cup sharp cheddar (grated) 3 tbsp flour
1/2 stick butter 1 tsp pepper
1 tsp Worcestershire (if you like) 1 tsp salt

Cook macaroni in 5 cups salted boiling water for 15 minutes or until al dente. Drain. In a separate pot, melt butter and mix in flour over low heat. Then, stir in milk until smooth. Add cheddar, salt, pepper and Worcestershire. Stir well. Smother macaroni. Serves 4.
