Calling all Crowds:

Volunteers (sororities, fraternities, clubs and individuals) needed now for Phoneathon

by Katchena Ellis
Staff Writer

Who says Brown and RISD are better schools than JWU? Not us! And we'll get to prove it this March when teams from all Providence's prestigious college hills rally to raise money for preventing child abuse.

JWU community Service coordinator, Susan Connery, says this phoneathon will be a great way for JWU students to show their spirit. The Rhode Island Committee to Prevent Child Abuse (RI-CPCA) is seeking volunteers from the university communities to assist in its annual Phoneathon on March 6 through 8, from 6 until 9 p.m.

Money received from the phoneathon supports the efforts of professionals trying to prevent child abuse. The RI-CPCA is seeking motivated college volunteers to help. Callers will be given a list of names and will be trained to telephone prospective and past donors.

A "runner" will tally responses as other universities (RIC, PC, Brown, RWU, URI and JWU) will compete to raise the most money. Prizes are awarded to the university team that collects the most money in pledges.

The RI-CPCA is popular in the Rhode Island community for its exceptional coloring book - "About Telling." It teaches children how to recognize and respond to potential molesters, seek help, and prevent victimization.

The smallest act of volunteering will be greatly appreciated. If you believe that "it shouldn't hurt to be a child" please contact Susan Connery at x2989.

Walking in a winter-1c-land

by Katchena Ellis
Staff Writer

The 1st Carnival at the Culinary campus was the highlight of this year's "Winter Weekend." The carnival featured an assortment of activities loved by both students and children. A turn-out of over 300 enjoyed running through a velcro tunnel, sumo wrestling, getting caricatures, pictures and more, and the best part about it was everything was just a penny.

Organized by the Major Weeks Committee, the Carnival was only one of the many enjoyable events that took place. "Rocky Horror Picture Show", Slam Dunk Contest, Wacky ID's in Xavier and Culinary, a skating party and others were among activities for "Winter Weekend."

More activities to complete Black History Month have already been planned. Look for the advertising posters and come out and support one.

USA plans for radio station underway

by Carrie Johnston & Tristan Hays
Special to the Herald

The Undergraduate Student Assembly is looking to establish a radio station on campus. The purpose for the radio station is to create better communication within Johnson & Wales University. It will stand as the link between the business and culinary campuses, making J&W a unified university. Heading the project are Carrie Johnston, Eric Wohlberg, Tristan Hays, and grover Ainsworth. They also work diligently with a committee of other students. Benefits to the station will also be a link between students, campuse residents, administration, as well as various student activities.

The radio station will be able to provide an assortment of music as well as announcements; such as, professor absences, cancellations, sport, registration information, social events, and club/organization meetings. Administration and faculty members will be invited to take part in a series of questions and answer programs as well. There will also be great emphasis put on enhancing the promotion and participation of several themed weeks such as "Winter Week." Through these promotions a new line of communication will be provided; which in turn, will cut down on the clutter created by the overabundance of fliers and posters.

Projects such as these don't happen overnight by with a effective student government and an even more supportive student body, Johnson & Wales will benefit in the future from our contributions.

Is there a ticket box office in there? What's going on with the new Information Center anyway? Find out. Look for the next issue of the Campus Herald after break in March.

Les fleurs, les bateaux, et l’amour
Food, Flowers, and Fun on Valentine’s Day in the City of Love

by Doris Sock
Staff Writer

Everyone knows that Valentine’s Day is just another bad day unless you have someone wonderful to share it with. We pretend that it doesn’t matter, but we all secretly wish that we could celebrate that wonderfully romantic day with a loved one.

So then what are those who have love lives going to do on Valentine’s Day?

Well, let’s think of the most romantic place to go or even better, remember the romantic places that we’ve been to. I used to think that one of the most romantic places to go was to the beach with a blanket to just watch the waves and wait for the sun to go down.

This was my narrow-minded thinking— that the beach was the only romantic place in the world, until I had the fortunate chance to live in Paris, France. I then realized how wrong I had been. It really is called the City of Love for a reason, even though French people are supposed to be considered rude (I have never met a rude French person), they certainly know how to be romantic.

In Paris, flower shops line the streets, and since Valentine’s Day is a day for flowers, the shops never want for customers. By the way, flowers are less expensive in France than they are here in the States, and they come from California. Hmm...

Does this say anything about the U.S.? Well anyway, back to romantic places. Many French people will go to a sidewalk café or a nice restaurant, spend the three hours that it requires to eat a meal, and then go for a walk through the park or along the Seine River.

Boring? Never! Paris is a beautiful city with many lights which gives one the impression that you are surrounded by candles, which many people consider candles to be romantic.

The best place to go in my opinion, is to one of the many bridges. The best though, would be the Place de la Concorde Bridge, because you and your partner can sit on top of one of the walls of the bridge. You are completely alone up there with traffic on the bridge behind you, yet you can look directly down on the river. Many party boats will pass underneath you casting colored lights upon the water. This is a nice way to spend Valentine’s Day, with you and your loved one sitting on a bridge while the rest of the city rushes past you.

Of course, it could be like “Sleepless in Seattle”, but use the Eiffel Tower instead. Although, it does cost quite a bit to go to the very top, it is a great view of Paris and beyond. I think you could probably see the village that I lived in, which is like from Providence to North Providence.

Walking along the Seine or the Eiffel Tower, or just going to a café, can be a very romantic way to spend Valentine’s Day.

So for all of you who are looking for a wonderful place to spend Valentine’s Day, I would suggest you go to Paris at least once in your lifetime. Of course, this is not the only romantic place in the world. Anywhere can be romantic if you want it to be, except maybe the gas station.

Valentine’s Day is a wonderful day, so go spend it in the best and most romantic way possible. (Hint Hint to all those men who can’t think of anywhere to take their women - anywhere does not include the gas station.)

Financial Aid Flowchart

Apply for grants and loans through free application for Federal Student Aid.

Check here when done.

The main campus in Providence will send you a notice of financial assistance. This is also known as an award letter.

Check here when done.

If you are eligible for any Stafford loans, complete a loan application available in the Financial Aid Office.

Submit SAR to Financial Aid Office.

If you receive Financial Aid, all of these steps must occur each year you are enrolled at Johnson & Wales University.
You've heard the saying,
"Money can't buy Happiness."

Well, money can't buy experience either.

No salary. No stipend. No money. No tuition reimbursement.

But as a student commencement speaker, you will be richer.
Your education will be more valuable.

JWU students celebrate the party of the year!

by Kenn Boyle
Staff Writer

Gala: A celebration, a festive occasion according to Mr. Webster. In other words, ... A PARTY! The 10th Annual Anthony Spinazzola Gala Festival of Food and Wine held on Friday, Feb. 3rd, was the party of the year in New England! This party, however, brought joy and hope into the hearts many people who weren't among the 2,500 fortunate enough to attend. The Gala was designed to show the gratitude of the Food service industry to the community. The Anthony Spinazzola Foundation raised over $200,000 at the event that contributes to causes such as Hunger Relief and Homeless Shelters (Community Servings, The Pine Street Inn, Rosie's Place, Greater Boston Food Bank, St. Francis House, and The New England Shelter for Homeless Veterans.)

The Foundation also contributes scholarship monies to participating culinary schools, as well as encouraging minority students in the pursuit of culinary careers through the Spinazzola Scholarship Partnership Project. Along with grants to the Failure to Thrive program (working to ensure that malnourished children receive proper nutrition.), the Spinazzola Foundation and the Boston Food Bank will launch a "Kitchen Reprocessing and Job Training" center. The center is designed to train homeless and other needy individuals in basic kitchen skills using donated food products and help them re-enter the work force.

Johnson and Wales University participated in this year's Gala by sending students to help 20 famous celebrity chefs including such notables as Madeleine Kamman, Jean-Louis Palladin, Todd English, Lidia Shire, Jasper White, Albert Kumin, Raymond Blanc, Allen Susser, Jeremiah Tower, and Patrick Clark at the Pre-Gala corso rate reception. The students assisted the World-class cadre of renowned chefs in the preparation of some of their signature appetizers. Chris Saulo, a C-4 student, stated "I got so well connected, I met everyone in elite culinary circles."

Other JWU Culinary students also participated in the Gala by donating their dining-room tents. The students provided polite and professional service to the guests, function staff and exhibitors. Their timely assistance insured a smoothly running function that guaranteed an enjoyable evening for all. One unidentified guest was overhead wondering "What restaurant do those people in the white coats work for?"

The Gala owed much of its success to the vast number of restaurants and wineries that participated. Boston culinary landmarks such as Olives, Biba's, Jasper's and Mirabelle's, along with 90 other eateries provided gourmand tidbits that perfectly complimented the incredible variety of wines available. Chef Jim Griffin, of JWU, stated, "Everyone who's anyone (vineyards) where, it's one of the biggest! You can't miss it."

Truly a world-class event, there were representatives from all major and minor grape regions. Wine masters, owners, executives and salespeople poured their products for the 2,500 guests. Booths representing France, Greece, Australia, California, New Zealand, Spain, Italy and South Africa displayed not only their unique vintages, but native foods as well.

Some of the more popular vintages at the event were: Schaefer Vineyards Barel-fermentated 1993 Chardonnay-

Fruity, yet with a spicy dryness that's happily appealing without being over-oaked. (Many well deserved Kudos, Doug!)

Bodegas Montecillo Vina Monty 1985-

Rich, full-bodied with well-developed cassis and very true to it's Tempranillo origins. (Thank you Maria for insisting on quality. Not to mention your quality sales staff! Is that good enough, Ulysses?)

Arrowfield Late 1993 Gewurtraminer-

Flavorful and velvety, with powerful spice and fragrant nose! (Keep up the fabulous work, Ian. You make people stand up and take notice!)

Ben zig 1992 Cabernet Sauvignon-

Gorgeous fruit with hints of leather and nuts! (Great wines. Thanks to the two Gran Dames of Benzig, Helen and Kaitry)

Jordann's 1990 -very simply one of the greatest sparkling wines in the world! En Vine Veritas !
Opportunity knocks for Advertising Majors

Johnson & Wales University is one of over 200 colleges and universities from across the country that will be participating this year in the 5th Annual Citibank College Advertising Awards. The competition is directed by Professor David W. Claire, Coordinator of the Advertising/Public Relations curriculum at J&W. Professor Claire can be reached at 598-4791. Students are required to produce a TV spot, a print ad and direct mail package, municipal-related project of the student’s choice in the state where the college is located. The donation can support an activity such as parks and recreation, economic development, arts and culture, travel and tourism, or education. All enrolled undergraduates, regardless of major or school, are eligible to participate. Students may work alone or in teams of up to three. The student deadline is April 7. One campaign will then be selected by a panel of faculty members to represent the National Finals in May 1995. At this time, a panel of leading advertising and marketing executives will screen the winning campaigns in New York and judge them on their creativity and overall effectiveness as an integrated campaign. The Grand Prize winner will receive $5,000, a matching grant to the school and opportunity for a summer internship in New York at Citibank (or one of its advertising agencies). Second and third prize is worth $2,500 and $1,000, respectively, plus matching grants to the schools. All campus winners receive $100. “In addition to giving student the challenge of creating a multi-media advertising campaign for an actual product, the Citibank College Advertising Awards offers some very tangible rewards,” said Lynn Felson, Vice President, Advertising and Public Relations at Citibank. “Many of our past student winners have used the program to give themselves an important leg up in starting careers in advertising and related fields.” Last year’s winning team was from the university of Oregon, with second and third place honors awarded, respectively to Southwest Missouri State University and Howard University.

Bubby, I remember when it all began that 10th day day of the year in the month of January. Two hearts, two souls longing to be lined. No higher compatibility could be granted from above. Like mouse and cat we began to play and later decided for love we'd stay. Our love has stood the test of time. And no consolation could be better than you with my Valentine. Love Always, DOC XOXOX
1988 & 1280, Let the friendship that bonds you never be broken.
Esmie Edwards, we traveled so far but yet we are still near. And to show my love for you, you know I still care. For the times we sit down to relax and joke. We never had a fight to break our gale. You're one of many in my family, but more close to me than everybody. Happy Valentine's Day! P.S. When are you going to get married? From, Kool (your brother)
Teresa, Oscar, Jenny, Fred, Ramiro & Mirtha, you guys been the greatest friends anyone could ever have. Teen MTV will call us soon, and us on that happens, we have to call CNN. You've been an awesome roommate. Oscar, TF is calling us saying, "Don't go to Senor Frog's." To the 2 Dominican locals: someday the two Mexicanos locals will kick your — And Fred & Ramiro: You guys suck. Always, Lily.
To my negros, Jenny, you mean the world to me! Happy Valentine's Day. Love, Your boy top, Chris. May all the Latinos live & love forever.

Act decisively on Monday and Tuesday. Talk about results on Wednesday and Thursday instead of trying to formulate a plan. Ethics classes should be particularly interesting those days, but it may be difficult to reach a consensus. Friday and Saturday should be good for parties and charitable fund-raising events. Tackle paperwork on Sunday. It’s the first day this week that’s really good for studying, so quite a bit of it may have stacked up!

Aries (March 21-April 19)

Check with an expert on Monday or Tuesday to get your financial situation under control. Make sure homework’s done before you go out on Wednesday and Thursday. There’ll be exams on Friday, you need to be prepared. Absolutely no excuses will be accepted, but excellence will be duly acknowledged. Go for the latter as usual. The same holds true on Saturday, in a less formal setting. You can make more points at a party on Sunday, so go!

LEONARDO DA VINCI

BY RAY H. LIVELY

Taurus (April 20-May 20)

Opposition the first of this week can make you stronger. If the game stops being fun, call in friendly reinforcement! You may be tempted to squander on a gift on Wednesday or Thursday. Put off all financial decisions until Friday or Saturday. By then, you’ll have a better idea of the hidden costs. Travel should go well on Saturday, but you could run into a roadblock on Sunday. An older person’s assignment may take precedence.

Gemini (May 21-June 21)

Monday and Tuesday could be difficult. Instead of complaining, concentrate by avoiding a friendly distraction. Schedule your date for Wednesday or Thursday instead, and do something mildly competitive. It’ll get your adrenalin pumping again: bills are coming due on Friday and Saturday, make sure you get that check into the mail. Your best day this week for social engagements and studies is Sunday, so you’ll be busy then!

Cancer (June 22-July 22)

Monday and Tuesday should be marvelous for you. If you’ve got a hunch regarding travel or romance, definitely follow up on it! Get back to work on Wednesday and Thursday. Studies get in the way of something you’d rather do with friends, but don’t complain. If you do the reading now, you’ll do much better on the test on Friday. Discuss practical matters with your partner on Saturday so you can minimize required spending on Sunday.

Leo (July 23-Aug. 22)

If you can trade for something you need for your room the first of this week, to keep from going into debt. Wednesday and Thursday should be fun, but watch for hidden expenses. Avoid making decisions or starting new projects on Thursday. Leave time to go over your work before handing it in on Friday. Working with a friend can alleviate financial stress on Saturday. Sunday may be your first chance this week to relax with a date.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)

You’re lucky in love this week! Do long-range planning with your sweetheart. If you don’t have one, hang out with people you admire. Monday and Tuesday you should be able to concentrate, so tackle a difficult subject. Wednesday and Thursday, anticipate changes to your schedule and stay flexible. Friday and Saturday are excellent for romance. Pick a date you work well with. Sunday, you may have to tackle a difficult assignment.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)

You may find a way to bring in more money the first week of the week by working for it. Use old skills. Write your first draft of a significant essay on Wednesday, so you can review and finalize it on Thursday. Friday, a roommate’s needs interfere with your agenda. Actually, that could turn out to be fun. Allow more time for domestic matters on Saturday, too. Sunday, find time for a brilliant conversation with a fascinating friend.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)

Conversations with your true love, or applicants for that position, could dominate your schedule on Monday and Tuesday. Wednesday and Thursday, you may be more concerned with financial requirements of the various options. Review those carefully, but don’t decide until Friday. You won’t have all the information until then. You’ll also learn very easily on Friday and Saturday, so study. Sunday, finish a household project.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)

The pressure could be intense on Monday and Tuesday, so finish something you promised. You’ll feel more energetic on Wednesday, which otherwise goes into your sign. Don’t let your good fortune blind you to the needs of a roommate. Be compassionate at least through Thursday. Don’t hoard money, however. You may need all of it on Friday or Saturday. Sunday is excellent for learning new material or the help of a personal tutor. Set something up.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)

Group meetings and team assignments go well on Monday and Tuesday. Practice together, and new skills will stay with you forever. Wednesday and Thursday could be annoying, though helpful. Be patient with bureaucratic mess. You have the advantage on Friday and Saturday. Study something you can use to do more work in less time. If new tools are required, make those investments on Sunday. Get a friendly techie to help.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)

A stubborn professor will not budge on Monday and Tuesday in particular. Don’t even ask. Wednesday and Thursday, it should be a lot easier to get new ideas across. Don’t expect much from decisions made on Thursday, however. Changes should be anticipated then. Finish a requirement that’s due on Friday, and finish something you promised to your sweetheart or another friend on Saturday. Sunday’s your best time to study or buy a new gadget.

Pisces (Feb. 19-Mar. 20)

Study foreign languages on Monday and Tuesday and you’ll greatly increase your options later. Stick to what you know is right on Wednesday and you may sway the discussion in an interesting direction. Don’t worry if things don’t seem to be going your way on Thursday. Decisions made then won’t stick anyway. Friday and Saturday, you’ll be more effective working with a team. Finish paperwork and/or a reading assignment on Sunday.

If you have a birthday this week... Born Feb. 20-21: Travel and publishing are favored. Learn another language and send out queries! Born Feb. 22-23: Anticipate change and be ready. These experiences will come in handy later. Born Feb. 24-25: Romance is one by product of working with a group organized to help others. You may make a profit, too. Born Feb. 26: Figure out what test you need to take to get where you want to go. Then, study and pass it!

Tau Kappa Epsilon
Due to an uncontrollable circumstance, the date of our annual Sleep Out for the Homeless has not been set yet. We're waiting for the ok. from the mayor's office. We are hoping that we will be able to hold it within the next month. When the time comes around, we would appreciate everyone's support at this event.

Exams and spring break are coming up. Don't start slacking off. Study hard now and when spring break comes, have a great time.

Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity has established a memorial scholarship in the memory of our three brothers; Aaron Ebbert, Peter Scott and Jim Smith who were killed last year in an auto accident over spring break. It is dedicated to them to keep their memory alive here at Johnson & Wales University. For donations or questions, contact Chef Carlomusto at 598-4798 or Jim Paul at 598-3280.

Thank you to the brothers who are donating their time to go to the TKE leadership conference in Syracuse over spring break. Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity is holding a fund raiser. It consists of a dinner for two and spending money. Tickets cost $2.00. See a TKE brother for details.

Once again, TKE is having a party at Lupo's. It's going to be on this Saturday. Don't miss out on the fun. Make sure to be there.

Snow? No class? Find out! Call the JWU InfoLine

By Charlie Miller
Special to the Herald

You wake up in the morning and see the snow falling. Your heart sinks! Could it be? Hoping against hope, you tune in the local radio station and wait in anticipation for the school closings.

The announcer starts running the list and just as you're about to give up hope... Johnson & Wales has cancelled classes! "Wait a minute!," you think," What am I going to do all day? This might be a good time to catch up on school work. After all, I do have that 10-page paper due next week that I haven't touched yet. I wonder if the library and computer labs will be open? How can I find out?"

Actually, it's easy. Just pick up the phone and dial JWU-INFO. With one quick phone call, you can find out the computer lab hours, library hours, dining facility hours, menus and more. During snow storms which cause school closings, the library and computer labs will be constantly updating their information. Both facilities have pledged to remain open as much as possible during these periods. While normal hours may have to change based on conditions, every attempt will be made to offer you the services that you need. Plans are in place to have the workers that live closest open these facilities. Remember, all the information is at your fingertips.
