A Little Respect: Students learn about selves and others at Greek retreat workshops

This weekend at the annual Greek Retreat, fraternity and sorority members discuss the difficulties of dealing with stereotypical labels, as well as other educational issues. For more details, see story and photos on pages 6,7.

College costs threaten the academic futures

Sister Francis hauls a hefty agenda

New school chaplain plans tackling social issues and justice while starting a Newman Club on campus

by Robin Yeigis
Contributor

Johnson & Wales University hired its first full-time chaplain this month. Sister Francis Murphy, SND started Monday, March 6, 1995. Sr. Francis comes to Johnson & Wales with a Masters of Art degree in education with a major in Pastoral counseling from Iona college, N.Y.

Hoping to instill a Catholic presence on the campus, Sister Francis Murphy is planning to start a Newman Club. The club will deal with social actions, peace and justice issues, and helping the poor.

Sr. Fran wants to incorporate this group with the other clubs on campus. All clubs and organizations are welcome to participate in any of the Newman Club's activities.

Another event that Sr. Fran is planning is Bible studies. These studies will be relevant to everyday life as a Johnson & Wales student.

Besides these activities, Sister Francis Murphy is also available for personal and spiritual counseling and direction. She says her door is always open for people seeking guidance in their faith.

The chaplain's office is located on the first floor of the Friendship Building, X1830. Sister Francis is also available on request to speak to clubs, orga-

Congressman Patrick J. Kennedy, at a press conference on the Providence College campus, introduced legislation to help make college education more affordable for students and families.

Kennedy's Student Loan Affordability Act of 1995 would amend the International Revenue Code of 1986 to allow a deduction for student loan interest payments just like the ones allotted for home mortgages.

Based on a loan repayment of $16,000, with an interest rate of 8 percent over a 10-year period, Kennedy said the legislation's deduction would amount to a total savings of about $3,500 for the borrower.

"Paying for college now ranks second only to buying a home as the most expensive investment for the average family," he said. "Thousands of parents across the nation are struggling to realize what has been the dream for their children since the day they were born. We can not allow college education to be a luxury that only the wealthy can afford."

Kennedy said that because of dramatic changes with federal financial aid in recent years this change is essential.

Fifteen years ago, federal student financial aid was 75 percent grants with 25 percent with student payment or private lending. Kennedy said those figures are now reversed.

Kennedy also announced that he is co-sponsoring legislation introduced by Congresswoman Anna Eshoo (D-Calif.) to establish an IRA-like account solely for educational savings.

The Higher Education Accumulation Program (HEAP) would allow each family to contribute $5,000 per year with a maximum contribution of up to $15,000 in any year for savings for all post-secondary education costs.

Officials from Johnson & Wales that attended the press conference were: William Mc Ardle, Vice President for Student Financial Services; Alan Restivo, Director of Financial Services; and Annette Cataldo, Director of Student Financial Services.

Is it that time already???

Don't forget to set your clocks ahead this week-end.

Internship offers high adventure in the Andes Mts.

Travel-tourism majors at Johnson & Wales University, as part of their required internship at the University's travel center, plan a Familiarization (FAM) trip to make use of the many skills the culture, people, transportation systems and general tourist information of the country.

The most recent FAM trip was different. Due to civil unrest in Equador, the original destination, plans were changed at the last minute and the students were off to Caracas, Venezuela, and high adventure in the Andean Mountains.

Instead of the usual leisure travel vacation, they got to experience eco-tourism first hand.

The group spent the majority of their time hiking and horseback riding in the Andes Mountains and visited Indian villages. They were also able to interact with hospitality students at the local university.

Stolen book finds it's way home

Dear Editor;

I am writing in reference to a situation that arose on February 23. I was attending class in Chef Griffin's C-4 lab and put my books in the C-4 dining room, to prevent them from being in the kitchen, as my fellow peers did.

At the end of the day, I went to get my books and go home; it was at that point I learned that my class textbook was't there. I had to go directly to work which left little time to look for the books; finals were the next day and I needed the books to study from.

Chef Griffin noticed me looking for the book, at which point I explained my situation. I also expressed my feelings about it and then left with no book, thinking that another student had picked it up by mistake.

After a short time at work I received a call from Chef Griffin- he told me that he had found my book and would come by work to drop it to me before the day was over. Shortly after he came in with his own book in hand! As it turned out, my book was stolen by a fellow "classmate" and sold back to the bookstore.

In this day and age it is rare to find people/instructors/chefs that would go to this extent, much less on their own time. Most would just have dismissed the incident and told me that they were sorry, and it would have ended there.

My opinion of Chef Griffin before this was high, yet after his willingness to go well above and beyond "the call of duty" my admiration of him has been raised to new levels. If only there were more people like him who truly care about their job and students as he does, getting an education would be easier to accomplish, more exciting and pleasurable.

There are others who should be commended for their efforts and return of the book. I felt that his handling of the situation needed to be brought to the attention of my fellow peers so this instructor and those who dealt with this matter did not go unnoticed for their actions. Chef Vienne, Bill Day, the people in the bookstore, and all those who were in the background that I am unaware of, many thanks for all of your time and efforts!

Sincerely,

David Rowe

Noted Expert to Offer Free Forum on liver disease in Women

Caroline Riely, MD, a nationally recognized expert on liver disease in women, will speak at a free public forum at Women & Infants' Hospital of Rhode Island at 6:00 p.m. on March 30, 1995. Geared to both medical professionals and the general public, the forum is one of a series of programs on women's health to be offered by the hospital with grant funding from the Rhode Island General Assembly.

Liver disease can be reversed if diagnosed and treated early. Dr. Riley's one-hour session is designed specifically to give women the information they need to avoid liver problems or deal with liver disease. The forum is free and open to the public. Free parking is available. For more information, or to register, call 274-1122 (x2356).

Scholarship program offers adults second chance at college education

In one of the few programs of its kind, Orville Redenbacher's Second Start Scholarship Program renews its commitment to assisting adult students with their special financial needs. This year, 25 $1,000 scholarships will be available to adults age 30 and older as they pursue a "second start" in their lives through college education.

Applications can be obtained by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to: Orville Redenbacher's Second Start Scholarship Program, P.O. Box 39101, Chicago, Illinois 60639. Scholarship applications will be accepted between March 1 and May 1 and must be postmarked by May 1.

Immediate Community Service Needs

by Susan Connery
Community Service Correspondent

If you care about the graduation commencement, this job's for you!

The 81st annual Johnson & Wales University Commencement Ceremonies will occur on Saturday, May 20, 1995. Volunteers are needed to help make this commencement the valued and memorable event it has become for our entire university community.

As a volunteer, you will be responsible for keeping the aisles clear. You will also ensure the commencement exercises run smoothly. We need volunteers for both ceremonies - the morning Business, Continuing Education and School of Technology Ceremony, and the afternoon Culinary Arts Ceremony. You can volunteer for either session, or both. Call Kevin Bittle at x1896 for more information.

Learn valuable teaching skills

The Providence Public Library needs volunteer tutors for upcoming sessions of the Family Literacy Program.

Volunteers needed for:

- Parents & Children Learning Together,
- Reading & Writing Practice,
- ESL classes, and
- Computer Lab Monitor (no computer experience is necessary; training is provided).

Programs will be ongoing through June 1995. For more information, please call Samara Cohen at the Providence Public Library's Literacy Office at 455-8041.

Deep down, are you a Crusader?

Children's Crusade/Americorps needs volunteers to help 3rd through 6th graders in East Providence.

As a mentor, you would encourage 3rd through 6th graders to stay in school, off drugs, out of trouble with the law, avoid early parenthood, and look forward to college education.

Please call Gina Ruggieri at 435-7862 or 435-7828 for more information

New fraternity, sorority welcomed by University

Compiled by Dave Crane
Greek Correspondent

Delta Phi Epsilon

To the committee who put together the Greek retreat, you did an awesome job! We hope everyone had a great time.

Thanks to Eileen and Amanda for your hard work with the intergenerational dance. I think that the Westminster Senior Center out-danced us! We hope everyone had a blast.

Thanks to everyone who supported us when we climbed 51 flights of stairs to benefit Cystic Fibrosis in Boston at the Prudential Building.

We appreciated those who supported our bake sale.

Good luck to the new Kappa pledge class. We have faith in you.

Look for exciting events to come!

Sigma Pi

On March 19th, Johnson & Wales University's Greek system welcomed a new member with the addition of Sigma Pi Fraternity.

Sigma Pi Fraternity was brought to Johnson & Wales University by already members Jason Dix and Nick Cringoli. The two Sigma Pi brothers formed an interest group on November 13, 1994, with the sole purpose of bringing Sigma Pi to Johnson & Wales.

On March 19, 1995, the interest group officially became Sigma Pi Fraternity, Johnson & Wales Colony. Upon this day the International Fraternity along with Jason Dix and Nick Cringoli officially turned 32 interest group members into 32 colonized brothers of Sigma Pi Fraternity, International.

The brothers of Sigma Pi strive to improve Providence and Rhode Island through participation in community service events and working along with their national philanthropy, Multiple Sclerosis.

The 1995 Executive Board of Sigma Pi Fraternity consists of Michael Grady(President), Nick Cringoli(Vice-President), Greg Vancleef(Treasurer), Josh Swank(Secretary), Jon "Pookie" Hogan(Sergeant-at-Arms) and Adam Golomb(Historian).

The brother's of Sigma Pi Fraternity would like to thank all of the fraternities, sororities, students, faculty and administration for all of their help and support.

Sigma Sigma Sigma

Congratulations to the new brothers of Sigma Pi fraternity. Welcome to Johnson & Wales University. Good luck in the future.

Underwater Monopoly is almost here. Help us make a child smile by showing your support. Anyone interested in the event which is scheduled for April 7th, can see any sister for information.

Tau Kappa Epsilon

The brothers of Tau Kappa Epsilon would like to welcome Sigma Pi fraternity and Kappa Phi sorority to Johnson & Wales University. Let's work together to make Greek life at J & W the best it ever was. Good luck to the both of you in the future.

We would like to thank Kappa Phi and Sigma Sigma Sigma for the great socials. We had a good time.

To Michelle Rotiroti, David Rojas and the rest of the Greek retreat committee, the retreat couldn't have gone as smoothly as it did without all of your help. It seemed like a success. Thanks for your hard work.

On Sunday, April 2nd, Tau Kappa Epsilon and Phi Sigma Sigma are working on a community service event together. The event is "Keep Downtown Beautiful." We will be cleaning up the streets of downtown Providence to make the city more attractive for visitors and residents. Anyone's support would be greatly appreciated.

TKE is also sponsoring the Midnight Madness Basketball tournament. The tournament is being held for alcohol awareness week. It will be on Thursday, April 13th, at midnight in the culinary gym.

Brothers, the Red Carnation Ball is coming up soon. Find a date and let's celebrate!

Theta Phi Alpha

Congratulations to the new E-Board! Stephanie Ormerod(President), Jenn Barney(Vice-President), Wendy Fitzgerald(Secretary), Alison Vernay(Treasurer), Heather Ronay(Pledge Educator), Jessica Prithchard(Rush Chairman) and Jen Roberts(Risk Management/Parliamentarian). We all wish you the best of luck with your positions!

We would like to thank everyone for supporting our fourth annual St. Patrick's Day mug sale. It was a huge success.

On Friday, March 24, 1995, the sisters of Theta Phi Alpha had a sister social to recognize the May graduates who will be leaving us soon. It consisted of hanging out and having a good time together.

The graduates that we recognized were: Lisa Marinelli, Leigh Tompkins, Liz Laona, Abbey Weiss, Carrie Hayden, Wendy Fitzgerald and Karen Mitchell.

We would like to thank all of you for always being there for us and for keeping the spirits up in the sorority. Your time and dedication is very much appreciated!

Congratulations to Lisa "Devo" Deveney on your graduation from Johnson & Wales University. We would like to thank you for your hard work and dedication to Theta Phi Alpha sorority. We will miss you very much and we wish you the best of luck in the future.

On Sunday, March 24, 1995, Kappa Phi had a fund-raiser which was "Jump Rope for Heart" for the American Heart Disease and stroke. It was held at the Culinary gym at 11am and ran until noon. It was a huge success and a lot of sororities attended this event. We would like to thank Leigh Tompkins and Tvin Andonian for participating in this activity.

Zeta Beta Tau

The Joslin Community Center is a day care facility for children whose parents can't afford to pay for day care.

Zeta Beta Tau and Phi Sigma Sigma come together for the Seesaw-A-Thon fund-raiser to raise money for these children. The event will run for thirty-six consecutive hours, starting on Friday, April 7 at 8am.

This will take place at McNulty Hall on the front lawn. The mayor, Buddy Cianci is expected to be present at 11am. Donations will be greatly appreciated and will support the children who really need our help. Please come out and show your support.

Zeta Beta Tau sponsored a child from the Christian Children's Fund. His name is Christian Saenz and was born on December 6, 1982. He lives in Southwest, Texas. More information will be given on the child at a later date.

Thanks to Sigma Delta Tau for the great social.

Jello Mania V is coming soon! Look for more details on tickets for this event.

Now it's time to say goodbye to all my fellow moshers

by Joeray L. Wood
Staff Writer

This is only the beginning

I must say from day one I never thought that this whole mosh pit thing would work. After a couple columns and about four shows I was going to make it work no matter what. This being my third and final year, I am calling it quits early. Why, you ask? I really wish I could say but this is not the time or the place. Certain inside factors have caused me to move on to bigger and badder pits.

After interviewing everyone from The Four Tops to Biohazard, I feel satisfied. As I sit here and type this out with The thing that should not be from Metallica's Masters of Puppets tape blasting in my ears all I can think of is how much fun this was. I thought that working on a newspaper would be really dull and boring and the people around me, would be wearing bowties and driving BMW's. No, not here. Most of the people that have come and gone on this paper are some of the coolest people to walk the earth.

I never could of done it without Mom and Dad there to heavily (constructively) criticize my work, plus they are the dudiest dudes of all time! Elizabeth who I should say was my first true groupie in my writing and music, (now the bass guitarist to my band) and the best friend anyone could have. Jeanine for the two Blind Melon shows and the overall support for the Mosher. Claire for all the support from day one and just for being the coolest ADVISOR in the whole world. Lili for enduring some of the most fierce pits - Biohazard (3) times, Slayer and most of all for doing the best job overall that no one could do but you - you put the M in managing editor. To my lovely staff of editors and staff writers who helped us hold it together with, a little chewing gum and wire, earlier in the year, and really I didn't mine when you guys didn't show up for production of the paper or decided during production that it would be a good time to chase each other around and tackling one another over the last jelly bean or something. You know who you are and thank you from the bottom of my heart even if I seemed mad at the time because I was the only one working, if we did it again I wouldn't change a thing. I still owe you one Nirali and Katchena!

I would like to thank the following bands for all the support and their time: local - Stain and Shed, national - Clutch, King's X, Gigolo Aunts, Biohazard, Overkill, Drown, Anthrax, The Four Tops, Ice -T and BodyCount, Carcass, Entombed and all of there record companies. Plus all the clubs who helped out, I never could have done it without you. The dudes from Babyhead once a dudeman always a dudeman. Karen from Lupo's God's gift to a music journalist, and Karen from the Strand live without you would not be complete.

I bet you thought that I forgot all about the readers. Without you it could of never happened and I appreciate every word of criticism and complement that went with the mosh pit. Just remember when you hear that riff that's smokin, I'll probably be somewhere with a grin on my face saying, yeah - interpretation (cool) or instant pit just add water. It maybe me playin that riff so look out. Thank you for a killer three years and I hope to see you out there tearing it up in a few years. I will never forget any of you, you are definitely the dudiest, dudes of all time. Don't forget King's X rules. I will see you in the future until next time...

Greek retreat unites fraternities and sororities

Annual Greek retreat unites fraternities and sororities who learn diversity tolerance

By David Crane
Greek Correspondent

On Thursday, March 23, 1995, Johnson & Wales blue bus left Culinary Arts Center with about 45 people from different Greek organizations. It was heading for Camp Hemlock, the site for the 1995 Greek Retreat.

The retreat was coordinated by Michelle Rotiroti and David Rojas with the intent of seeing Greeks come together to find out how Greek life could improve on the campus of Johnson & Wales University. Hence the name, "The Rebirth of Greek Civilization."

The agenda included a lecture from Adrian K. Haugabrook about diversity. Through different workshop exercises, he showed us how to recognize people as equals, regardless of their race, color, nationality, fraternity or sorority.

Another activity included having our groups build a better Greek community. We took miscellaneous items and build our own Greek community and told what it meant to us. One group made a Greek row and told how much better relations could be between other Greeks and the Johnson & Wales community.

One of the most important parts of the retreat was the Greek Forum. We were split up into groups by National Panhellenic Council, National Pan-Hellenic Council, Inter-Fraternal Council and Greek Letter Council.

We were asked to come up with some solutions as to how we as Greeks could make relations better on the campus. Some ideas included working together more, such as on community service events, finding a Greek advisor whose job would be to oversee Greek life and to form some kind of student center for students to go to for shooting pool, hanging out and relaxing.

The retreat seemed to bring everyone closer together. It was a good function to go to for meeting other Greeks and finding out what their ideas of Greek life were. Will Greek life change for the better? Will other Greeks get along? We are the ones who have to make that decision. We can make it happen if we try.

Sorority and fraternity members pool their talents during the Greek retreat workshops.

Madness

The moon is in Scorpio and the sun's going from Pisces into Aries, the sign of beginnings, on Monday. So lay the groundwork for something then. Tuesday and Wednesday should be very good for athletics, since the moon in Sagittarius completes a grand trine in fire signs. Business should be easy to learn on Thursday and Friday with the moon in Capricorn. And, the moon in Aquarius over the weekend is perfect for partying with friends.

Aries (March 21-April 19). It's your turn now! Count your money on Monday. Tuesday and Wednesday are good days for higher education and travel, so take a field trip. Don't let a hassle with an authority figure dampen your spirits, or lower your grade, on Thursday or Friday. Part of the assignment is to learn that you don't already know it all! You'll find plenty of romantic opportunities at social activities this weekend, so mingle!

Taurus (April 20-May 20). The pace will be a tad more intense for the next 30 days or so. Set your course with a major decision on Monday. Take care not to squander scarce resources Tuesday and Wednesday. By Thursday, your common sense should triumph. Then and Friday are good days for you to travel and set goals. A roommate's decision on Friday or over the weekend may affect your domestic environment. Don't be pressured into making a bad choice.

Gemini (May 21-June 21). Concentrate on work Monday, or you'll wish you had! The competition's more intense Tuesday and Wednesday, and some of your rivals may be downright attractive! Money could be a major concern Thursday and Friday. If you don't have enough, figure out a way to make more! Heeding an older person's advice will help. Travel and romance are highly favored this weekend, which ought to be enough excuse to get you out of town, with a congenial friend!

Cancer (June 22-July 22). Set your goals for the next few weeks on Monday morning, so you won't have to worry about them later. Tuesday, your workload will probably get heavier. By Wednesday, you could start feeling overwhelmed. Take on a partner Thursday so you can meet your deadlines by Friday. If you share the load, it'll be lighter for you both. Shop carefully for an expensive item this weekend to minimize the debt you'll incur. If possible, trade.

Leo (July 23-Aug. 22). Don't lend a roommate money on Monday; give it as a gift so you won't have to worry. Tuesday and Wednesday should be magnificent. Challenge your noblest adversary to a match; you'll be in top form. A project may seem too difficult on Thursday, but by Friday you should start to see your way through the maze. This is a lesson you can only learn through hands-on experience. An intellectual is your best partner over the weekend.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). Tell your best friend a secret Monday morning, and you may hear an even better one in return. An allowance-squandering roommate may want to talk you out of your spare change Tuesday or Wednesday. Teach that one about budgeting, instead! Thursday and Friday are good for setting romantic goals and thinking of creative ways to achieve them. Unfortunately, paperwork may consume most of your weekend. Write that report!

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). You may be a bit groggy on Monday morning, but the fog should clear by evening. Schedule wild, impetuous adventures for Tuesday and Wednesday. You'll learn a lot, but take care to prevent accidents! A roommate could be downright disagreeable Thursday and Friday. You may decide to spend those evenings studying with an attractive tutor instead. That activity should be highly favored over the weekend, too!

Scorpio (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). Make a wish list Monday morning; your intuition and imagination will be excellent. Spend Tuesday and Wednesday working, and not out shopping! You'll have a tendency to squander on toys. Thursday and Friday, an older friend can teach you new skills to save even more money. Entertain an unusual character in your personal quarters over the weekend, and you'll learn how to look at life in a whole new way. Allow plenty of warm-up time.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). You may feel uncomfortably pressured on Monday. Hopefully, it's not an assignment you forgot all about! Tuesday and Wednesday should be much more to your liking. You'll be especially entertaining those days, too. Thursday and Friday, the urge to buy new toys could be almost overwhelming. For a great deal in sporting goods, get last year's model. A group outing will be very interesting, and educational, this weekend.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). You may learn a valuable insider tip at a club meeting Monday, so attend. Philosophy may not be your favorite subject, but waxing eloquent will gain you points Tuesday and Wednesday. Thursday and Friday should be more to your liking. Lay down the law to a roommate. You may not get everything, but at least you'll clear up the confusion. Ask your sweetie to help you make a purchasing decision this weekend.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). Flirting with the professor on Monday could kindle a spark. Take care not to get burned! You may notice athletes find you particularly attractive on Tuesday and Wednesday. That's especially true in classes about subjects in which you excel and they're failing! Use this knowledge to your advantage. Do your own homework Thursday and Friday, or pay the penalty! Squander the weekend on yourself, and whomever else you hold most dear.

Pisces (Feb. 19-March 20). Monday, launch a bunch of creative projects. By that night, you may begin to wonder how you're going to pay for them all, but don't worry. You'll think of something. You may be able to get an extension on an assignment from a congenial professor Tuesday or Wednesday, if you don't whine. Your membership status in a group can help you get a better deal Thursday or Friday. Spend the weekend doing research.
