Welcome back Johnson & Wales

How To Be A Successful Student

From Mark Burke,
Vice President, Student Affairs

10. Attend all Welcome Week activities. It's a great opportunity to meet hundreds of friends.
9. Get involved! Join the club, fraternity, or sorority that best suits your needs. (You won't have time to be homesick.)
8. Make your room your home (hang pictures of family and friends, buy a plant, decorate, etc.).
7. Get ready for classes. Know where buildings are located.
6. Try each dining facility at least once before choosing a favorite.
5. Be friendly. Talk to your neighbors.
3. Get to know your resident director & resident assistants. They're here to ensure your success.
2. Be open minded and accepting of people's differences. You've joined students from 80 foreign countries and all 50 states. Learn from each other.
1. Communicate. Take advantage of my open door policy and visit me in University Hall. Or call me at extension 2350.
Notice from the Registrar

Students may add or drop courses non-punitively within the first three days of a new term for business, Hospitality and Technology day school students, and before the second class meeting for Continuing Education and Graduate School students. Students may drop courses meeting during double periods before the third class meeting. The appropriate form must be completed in the Registrar’s Office.

Students choosing to participate in the Add/Drop process are responsible for any absences incurred. Failure to file the proper paperwork will result in a grade of "W" being assigned.

Continuing Education students may add or drop academic courses prior to the second class meeting. Alterations to laboratory courses are not permitted once the term has begun.

Entrepreneur Practicum Site

Do you know about the entrepreneur practicum site? The site was designed to aid local business and organization by providing meeting, conference, and business incubation space. It began in September of 1996 and is now ready for another successful year. The center is located inside the Algerquian House at 807 Broad Street in Providence’s historic Southside.

This business venture is a cooperative effort between JWU and Greater Elmwood Neighborhood Services, a community improvement organization. The goal of this partnership is to provide a practicum facility for JWU students, as well as to provide space and services to outside businesses and organizations.

How does the practicum work? The primary objective of this practicum is to learn how to start and maintain operation of an efficient, competitive business while providing a comfortable place for professionals to meet. The students will concentrate on building the business by creating a solid professional reputation through marketing and customer service.

Please feel free to drop by and see the entrepreneurial students at their best. Visit our new website at http://www.geocities.com/Eureka/Pa rk/4150. Our email is meetconference@eocities.com and our number is 941.8053.

Johnson and Wales Student I.D. Required
Seniors Challenged to make it Memorable

Student Life has a great year planned to make our last year memorable. Our class has been challenged to instill tradition here at Johnson & Wales University. My personal challenge to each one of you is that you take advantage of the opportunities to get involved by either participating in planning events or supporting JWU events by being there and that you press in and learn more than you thought you ever would for you. Have fun. If you have any comments, ideas, or questions, call me at extension 2914 or write to:

Deep Thoughts... a Play on Words

Greetings! Happy returns and joyful welcomes to this so-called fun-filled era of our youth. This is the time to party it up, pump it loud and grind it hard. Set free your inhibitions for college is supposed to be the place to fulfill dreams; this is where you start your future. Hmmm... perhaps I should enclose a warning: don’t drink 5 shots of whiskey, tequila, and rum in 15 minutes. Be careful if your dormmates or roommates walk around comfortably in the nude. And don’t swallow unless you are truly thirsty. Oh yeah. Study in the dark and smoke in the park. College is a game. Everything you need to know is inside you. Finding out how to get it is the whole process with its own set of rules and regulations. Defying limitations would be ideal but to stay within some rules, okay most rules, is the object of the game.

USA Officers Get the Ball Rolling

The Undergraduate Student Assembly (USA) would like to offer a warm welcome to all students who have chosen JWU to be their home for the next year. For those of you who may know who we are or what we do, we are here solely for you. We are your student government-a group of student who represent students and work in the best interest of students. We address needs and concerns from students in order to form a link between students and administration. We are interested in what YOU have to say. USA has 3 main bodies: The Cabinet, The Senate, and The Class Officers. This year’s Cabinet was elected in April and is comprised:

President
Tye Thomas
Vice President
Armand Anderson
Treasurer
Scott MacDavitt
Secretary
Nathalie Gamache

The following Senators and Class Officers were also elected:

Sophomore Senators:
Dwight Cunningham and Melissa Dublin

Junior Senators:
Brandon Marshall and Michale McKlerman

Senior Senators:
John Day

Downtown Senators:

Harborside Campus Senator
Michael Miller
Residential Hall Senator
Andrew Hazen
Commuter Senators
Ian Debiski, Todd Gurney, and Robert Peltz
Student Body Senator
Erik Tremblay and Gerald Warning
Senior Class President
Keith Jones
Junior Class President
Jacki Davidson
Sophomore Class President
Peggy Schulte
Sophomore Class Treasurer
John Day

Please keep in mind that there are still several positions open for students like yourself who want to get involved and make this the best year JWU has ever seen. Keep your eyes open for elections to be held in October. To find out more about us, stop by our offices on the second floor of the Friendship Building or call JWU-1091. Not only will we be waiting to hear from you but we will be seeing you around campus. Have a great year!

We’re on the Prowl for the best of the best!

Become a Student Ambassador and you, too, can play a key role in the University’s recruitment efforts by conducting campus tours, assisting at special events, talking with prospective students and their families, and much more. It’s also a great opportunity for you to strengthen your leadership skills.

The Admissions team is looking for energetic, enthusiastic students for the 1997–98 Student Ambassador team. If you’re ready to accept the challenge, attend one of our orientation sessions:

Wednesday, September 17
11:00 a.m. Culinary Admissions Office, HAC
5:00 p.m. Business Admissions Office, University Hall

Friday, September 26
11:00 a.m. Business Admissions Office, University Hall
5:00 p.m. Culinary Admissions Office, HAC

For more information, call Rhonda at ext. 2352.

Fall Sports Preview

by John Parente

Most of them showed up a week ahead of time for conditioning, those dreaded two-a-day practices, and early morning runs downtown. Everyone hopes the extra effort will be worth it when the Johnson & Wales fall sports season begins in a matter of days.

Men’s and women’s soccer, cross country, the women’s volleyball and tennis teams, and the golf team all begin their NCAA seasons within a week or so, while the JWU baseball team launches its fall season this week as well.

For everyone, the mood is upbeat, and there are some good reasons.

The best news is that the soccer teams have a home. Over the past several seasons, games have been split between various collegiate locations in and around Providence. But through the cooperation of the East Providence Parks and Recreation Department, JWU’s men’s and women’s soccer games will be played at Pierce Stadium, a 5,000-seat stadium generally regarded as one of Rhode Island’s top football and soccer fields.

The Pierce complex is also the home of JWU’s softball and baseball teams, but the added schedule of Wildcat soccer games creates a real “home field” atmosphere.

It should also increase fan interest, once everyone becomes familiar with where the complex is and how easy it is to get to from both the Downtown and Hartside campuses.

Preparations, meanwhile, continue for opening contests for the seven fall teams. The men’s soccer team, coming off a 9-8 season last year, open the JWU sports year Saturday at Ramapo College in New Jersey. The women’s soccer and volleyball teams open on Tuesday, September 9, while the cross country and women’s tennis teams begin on the 13th.

Milton Johnson, the Great Northeast Athletic Conference Player of the Year, as well as several other major contributors from last year’s team, including Nick Hartmeln, Joe Espinos, Nate Ernest, and Ross Wilms return to Greg Miller’s soccer team.

Meanwhile, the women’s soccer team is peaking up for its second season together. Coach Patricia Morano’s team, which competed for the first time as an NCAA team, brings back most of its members, including backliners Amber Haten and Joelle Reise. Returning, too, are Kelsey McRae, Erin Brown, Jessica Lyons, Gina Calabro, and Jacqui Shepherd, who led the team in scoring last year.

The JWU cross country teams both have Great Northeast Athletic Conference championships to defend. The men’s team, a two-time GNAC champion, bring back Chris Murphy, Dustin Warner, and four other returnees from a team that thrashed the conference last year. Sebene Evans and Jen Creager are back to help the women’s team try to successfully defend the conference title they won in their first year of action in the GNAC.

The news on the women’s tennis front too. Dr. Allan Freedman’s team was 9-3 last season, and although they must replace the team’s three top players, they, too, have some returning veterans ready to continue what they’ve built upon. Richelle Brandt, Shannon White, and Amanda Miller area all back for more tennis is a challenging season that will include four matches in the first eight days of the season.

There’s no one on the JWU golf team that doesn’t think they were robbed of a second straight conference title last year. Johnson and Wales lost the GNAC title by a mere 12 strokes in a championship match that was shortened to 13 holes because of darkness. So, with a chip on their shoulder, Charlie Novak’s golfers return, ready for a lot of winning. Jay Sawicky, Marco Tomizza, Dave Christopher, Rick Dow and Elisabeth Berman are all set to return the Wildcats to winnings ways.

While soccer teams will make Pierce their home, the tennis team’s matches will be played at the Wheeler School in Seekonk, MA. The golf team plays its home matches at Swansea Country Club. Good luck to all our fall teams!

NCAA Status Made Official

JWU’s three-year-long wait to officially join the NCAA has ended. Johnson and Wales has been named an active member of the NCAA after the Division III Management Council issued its final approval last week.

JWU has been a provisional member of the NCAA since 1994. During the provisional period, the operation and management of the university’s entire athletic program was continually monitored and reviewed.

Because of the decision, Wildcat teams are now eligible to compete in NCAA championships.

Sports Hotline Established

There’s always a way to stay on top of what’s happening in the Johnson & Wales Athletic Department. The JWU Sports Hotline is updated daily with results, schedules, and information about all Westsid intersystematic teams and intramural activities as well.

Simply call JWU-INFO and access extension 212. If you’re on campus, just call 636 and access extension 212.

by John Parente

The votes are in, the discussion has ended. JWU’s new mascot is its old one. The WILDCAT.

By taking a giant step backward into its athletic history, Johnson & Wales will build upon its new successes with the Cat as its mascot.

A vote of students, alumni, and staff conducted throughout all of JWU’s campuses has ended with the return of the Wildcat, which was the university’s mascot through its glory days as a junior college basketball and baseball power.

During the sixties and early seventies, Johnson & Wales teams competed at a very high level, reaching the New England junior college regional championship continually. The ‘Cats caught the fancy of the entire state when they reached the national junior college championship in Kansas in 1969.

While the men’s basketball teams and baseball teams were among New England’s best, the first venture into women’s sports also began with the creation of a women’s basketball team. Dr. Paul Trznadel, an active member of the JWU faculty, was the team’s organizer and its first coach.

University President Dr. John Yenna, who served as a head coach and an assistant during those big years with the Wildcat teams of the late sixties, recruited most of the players on those New England championship teams. He held a reunion of those players last spring. “They still have a strong attachment to the Wildcat name,” Yenna observed.

When the JWU hockey team reached the American Collegiate Hockey Association nationals last year, the movement began for the return to the University’s original athletic mascot. The new Wildcat logo was the creation of the University’s Publications Department.
