Master Class at Johnson & Wales to Be Broadcast Nationwide

In addition to faculty and students, the program will feature 12 Distinguished Guest Chefs in a master class setting, preparing recipes and sharing their experiences and tips with the students. These well-known culinarians include George Germon and Johanne Killeen, chef-owners of the top-rated Al Forno in Providence, R.I.; Daniel Orr, executive chef of Gustavino's in New York and the legendary chef, author and television personality; Madison Kamman. Special segments with world-renowned chef Paul Bocuse were filmed on location at the Culinary Resort and Spa in Anguilla, West Indies and showcase the University's cutting-edge program in culinary nutrition. The show was produced by Marjorie Poore Productions, the well-respected producers of such shows as Cook-Off America.

John Bowen, executive vice president Johnson & Wales University and president of the Providence Campus, coordinated the University's efforts. "We are so pleased to have had this opportunity to showcase the world-class faculty and students at our College of Culinary Arts and to collaborate with one of the finest production and creative teams in the nation. The series is as entertaining as it is educational, and that balance could only have been achieved by the efforts of all those in front of and behind the cameras. The program will encourage students of all ages to explore their options and opportunities, whether they aspire to creating great recipes in their homes or in the world's finest restaurants."

The program is being underwritten by Cuisinart, Weber-Stephen Products Company, and Procter & Gamble. The University is honoring these major sponsors and recognizing their ongoing commitment to culinary education, with 12 annual $5,000 scholarships for students at Johnson & Wales University's College of Culinary Arts, coinciding with the debut of the new series.

International Fest 2002 Planning Committee Ready

The bill would also provide up to $83 billion in federal financing to meet the new requirements, upgrade voting equipment and adopt procedures and train poll workers. Historically, elections in the United States have been governed by state laws and administered by local officials, with state and local governments bearing almost all of the cost.

By infusing a substantial amount of federal money into the system and requiring the states to take certain steps to improve access to voting, law- makers hope to avoid a repetition of the 2000 Florida vote, which was marked by widespread allegations of defective voting equipment and denial of voting rights to minorities. The Senate bill must be reconciled with another election overhaul measure that the House by a 363 to 63 vote, passed in December. The $2.65 billion House bill is less generous than the senate version, and would impose less stringent requirements on states.

Senate Approves New Election Law

By: Rosalind A. Reid

The Senate overwhelmingly approved legislation to revamp the nation's election system, a direct response to the 2000 presidential election recount controversy in Florida that could begin to affect the way Americans cast their ballots in the next presidential election, in 2004.

By a vote of 90 to 1, the Senate passed a measure that for the first time would establish federal requirements for elections to federal office such as Congress. It would, for example, require states to have in place a system to count disputed ballots of voters whose names were left off official registration lists.

The bill would also provide up to $83 billion in federal financing to meet the new requirements, upgrade voting equipment and adopt procedures and train poll workers. Historically, elections in the United States have been governed by state laws and administered by local officials, with state and local governments bearing almost all of the cost.

"Member of the Year"

Kadian Smith

Kind, Aesthetic, Determined, Innovative, Artistic, Natural

by Tiffany Rankine

These are just a few adjectives that describe our "Member of the Year" Mr. Kadian Smith. Kadian was born on the 28th of November, 1980 in the Parish of Manchester, Jamaica, to the proud parents of Mr. & Mrs. Smith.

Kadian, along with his young brother and sisters, came to the United States while he was a teenager, taking up residence in New Haven, Connecticut, where he attended the Wilbur L. Cross High School. Because he was accustomed to the British educational system coming into the American System was very challenging for him.

During the first few months of school, he encountered many obstacles, but with perseverance and determination, he was able to regain his composure to overcome them.

After high school, Kadian was able to achieve one of his life's goals, which was entering university. Johnson & Wales. As with many Caribbean students, achieving the goal of attending university was not only for him but also for all his family members involved with his growth, maturity, and success. His dream for the near future is to work at a reputable company, which will drive him to wealth and power. When asked, "What motivates you to press on," his response was: "I want to support my family and assist with the nurturing and educating of my younger siblings."

Kadian is a junior majoring in Electronics Technology. He is an active member of the Caribbean Students Association, and he works in the computer labs on campus. He is always motivated to help in any area, especially art and design. Using his skills, he has been responsible for the large number of the artwork produced by the students of this university shall provide the integrity and professionalism necessary for producing accurate and essential information to contrast the geographic between the university family.

Second Annual GreekNic Step Show a Great Success

by Vanessa Collins

The JWU National Pan-Hellenic Council and Member organizations, Alpha Phi Alpha, Delta Sigma Theta, Kappa Alpha Psi, Phi Beta Sigma, and Sigma Gamma Rho would like to thank all those who made the second annual Greeknic Step Show a success. The show took place on April 13, 2002 at the JWU Xavier Auditorium. Many teams came together to put on a great show hosted by comedians AG White. There were two categories of competition: the stroll competition and the step show competition.

The results of the stroll Competition are as follows:

Female Division
1st place Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority, Incorporated
2nd place Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Incorporated
3rd place Swing Phi Swing Social Fellowship

Male Division
1st place Iota Phi Theta Fraternity, Incorporated
2nd place Groove Phi Groove Social Fellowship

The results of the step show are as follows:

Female Division
1st place Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority, Incorporated
2nd place Swing Phi Swing Social Fellowship

Male Division
1st place Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity, Incorporated
2nd place Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, Incorporated
3rd place Groove Phi Groove Social Fellowship

Congratulations to all the participants your hard work meant a lot to us. It took many months of preparation and dedication to make this show happen and we truly appreciate the support of the students as well as that of the Student Activities Department. Last but not least to Tanya McGinn what more can we say besides you're the best. Thanks for everything we could not have done it without you. We look forward to many more shows in the years to come.

IMPORTANT NOTICE
ADDRESS CHANGE INFORMATION
by Kent Raph, Director of Print and Mail Services

As the end of the year approaches, it is important that you start your address changes now. Any mail that you receive on a regular basis such as bills, subscriptions, personal or any other mail must have an address change card filed out and mailed to the mailer. One card should be filed out for each individual mailer. A sample of the card is attached and it is the only way you can change your address. The address change cards are available at the front desk of your dorm or stop by the Mail Center at the Hendricken Campus to pick them up. Remember, you need one card for each address change that is being made.

Don't go to the Post Office for a change of address for moving because the Post Office will not except that form for a change of address. If you fail to send the change of address card to the current mailer, your mail will continue to be delivered to the university and will be returned to the sender.

Reminder: If you fail to fill out this card and get it to the mailer, you will not receive mail from your current mailer.

Help for Families of Terrorist Attack Victims; September 11th Scholarship Alliance Simplifies Education Aid Process

Courtesty of U-Wire

In an effort to simplify the scholarship application process for post-secondary education for the families of those who died or were permanently disabled in the September 11th terrorist attacks, seven leading scholarship providers and associated organizations have formed the "September 11th Scholarship Alliance" (Alliance).

The Alliance will serve as an information clearinghouse to help ensure that financial assistance for post-high school education, such as college, university and vocational-technical schools, gets into the hands of those who need it most. A toll-free phone number, 1-877-862-0136, is available to initiate the registration process of all eligible families to obtain application information.

"This is a difficult time for these families, and we want to make sure that no one’s educational dream is deferred due to the events on September 11th," said Charles V. Raymond of the Citigroup Relief Fund, which has led the effort to form the Alliance. "We believe the ‘September 11th Scholarship Alliance’ will make a real difference in streamlining the financial assistance process and establishing a system that will serve these families for the next 20 to 25 years."

The Alliance has adopted a common registration database and scholarship application form that will be used by Citizens' Scholarship Foundation of America (CSFA) to identify those scholarships for which each applicant is eligible. CSFA, the nation’s largest administrator of scholarship programs, will also manage the distribution of scholarships to applicants on behalf of nearly all Alliance scholarship providers.

"We have been very pleased to be an active partner from the beginning of this effort to ensure that the children and spouses of the victims of September 11th have access to a 'one-stop-shop' for all the scholarships for which they may be eligible," said William C. Nelken, president of CSFA.

"The Alliance has turned what could have been a very complicated and frustrating process for these families into something much more manageable."

The Alliance also is collaborating to coordinate communications to families and reach out to other scholarship funds. "Hopefully, over time, any entity that is providing scholarships to the families of the victims of September 11th will be connected to the Alliance in some way," Mr. Raymond said.

CSFA has been working with government agencies, charitable organizations, companies and educational institutions to get scholarship information to all eligible families. CSFA also has endeavored to reach out to eligible students currently enrolled in post-secondary institutions by sending scholarship information to colleges, universities and vocational schools throughout America.

BASIC FACTS:
- To date, information packets have been sent to more than 1,000 families.
- Nearly 1,400 individuals have been officially registered.
- All eligible families are urged to call toll-free 1-877-862-0136 to initiate the registration process.
- The Alliance welcomes additional organizations that have established scholarship funds for September 11th families.
- CSFA will provide information annually for approximately the next 25 years to all eligible families to remind them of the ongoing financial support for post-secondary education, whether they are children in school now or children just being born.

JWU's Media Relations Class Moves Forward

Professor Michael Sablitzon's Media Relations class will be holding a Mock Press Conference on Monday, May 13, 2002 at the Fleish Skating Center in downtown Providence. The students along with keynote speaker Stacie Schilino, Event Director of the Fleish Skating Center, will be introducing the events that will be held at the Fleish Center during the summer. The purpose of this press conference is to inform Johnson & Wales University students about what is up and coming for the Fleish Skating Center this summer. This is a new concept for the Skating Center. They are going to host several events to get more use out of the ice skating rink. The facility has tried many other activities to make more revenue but they did not work. They will have events like outdoor movies, a 3 on 3 basketball tournament, talent shows, and other activities.

New Election Laws Arise

The two bills contain significant differences, including the methods by which federal money would be made available to state and local governments and a voter identification requirement that was insisted on by Senate Republicans. Election reform experts said these didn’t appear to be insurmountable.

President Bush, who won the 2000 election after the Supreme Court halted the Florida recount in the controversial 5 to 4 decision, praised the Senate action but indicated his support for the House approach to the issue.

But even if a House-Senate conference committee reaches agreement on a compromise version of the legislation that Mr. Bush will sign into law this year, it will be too late to have much, if any impact on the 2002 midterm elections.

REVIEW

By: Kara Wright

Beautiful, amazing, spell binding, these are just a few of the many words that could possibly be used in describing Elton John and Tim Rice's Aida. The musical tells the story of a Nubian Princess who was snatched from an excursion along the Nile to become the slave of an Egyptian expedition. Aida was brought back to Egypt, then presented as a gift to the pharaoh, a complete deceiver of a princess whose true beauty was her "gorgeous hair and beautiful skin" but actually turned out to be an imposter's weak spout. To make a long story short, he falls in love with Aida and loses his heart, despite the fact that he kidnapped her from her home land and her war. The story is a beautiful story of culturally forbidden love that survived the hatred of that culture.

The orchestra, which was conducted by Steven Malash, was so powerful in its sound, it contributed incredibly to the image transferred to the audience. The scenery was bright, vivid and extremely realistic. It was as if some of actually went back in time on the continent of Africa and were experiencing this tragedy first hand. The choral reception was wonderful, and you could feel the passion radiating from the performers.

Overall this was a wonderful musical and I would recommend it to anyone with an appreciation for the arts.

As the lights dimmed, the crowd went wild over the many artists that hit the stage at Hot Night VIII on April 6 at Providence, Dunkin Donuts Center. The radio personalities hit the stage and took the New England crowd into their hands.

Opening for Hot Night VIII were the newly recording artists Code S: Casey, Scooter, Jermaine, Dave, and Jahmal. As they sang their songs "Hottie" and "What's Ur Name Girl," the fans went wild over the chemistry. Like natural performers their dancing techniques never missed a beat.

Next on the stage Kingston based vocal duo Tanto Metro & Devonte. This reggae group is considered a cross between Hip-Hop and R&B. Tanto sitting at the microphone with his acrobatic passing style and Devonte offering a dose of silky soul with his extraordinary tenor vocals. Throughout the proceedings, Tanto and Devonte anchor the music in a mixture of sounds. Tanto Metro & Devonte sang their hits "Everyones Falls In Love," "Give It To Her" and "Log On." These two have just begun their career, but their stage appearance wouldn't let you know.

Surrounding him with a group of close friends known as the T-Raw Squad, this very down to earth performer did his squad justice. Latino rapper Fat Joe was born Joseph Cartagena in the Bronx originally recording under the name Joe Calzaghe. Joe's still putting it down for N.Y.C, representing himself as part thug, past player. As his Latino performer did for any other concert he did for Hot Night VIII. He performed his classics and his newly released single "What's Love" featuring Ashanti. Fat Joe also without hesitation gave his love to Big Punish whose we'll miss.

First time appearing in Providence, El was NJ's native, Faith Evans. As she gave her love to all her fans, Faith announced that since it was her first appearance in Rhode Island, she would take it to her very first album. Faith sang hits like, "I'll never let you go" and "You used to love me." From her mini record album "Faithfully" she performed "You got no love" and "I Love You," dressed in a graffiti print skirt and solid color shirt.

Slym, Damo, Mike, and Q. better known to the world as 112 hit the stage next. This group came together in their high school choir and later became famous worldwide. As they hit the stage they worked the audience and shared their sexy moves as they sang, "Dance With Me" and "Peaches And Cream" and just like the video they did their break down as they demonstrated their own version of the Harlem Shake for the audience.

After 112 left the stage the audience felt that it was their time to steal the spotlight. Corona walked the battle ground for the Harlem Shake (Way). One by one members of the crowd ran to show their version of the Shake. Build Life Center staff had to start vending ticket-holders back to their seats to gain back control.

Young rapper, Lil Bow Wow, from Columbus, Ohio hit the stage representing So So Def as the freshest Bow Wow clearly showed Providence, RI that even tough he is only 15 years old he could still put on a great performance. So So Def recording artist expressed faithfully that if it wasn't for the fans there would be no So So Def. Bow Wow performed "Bounce With Me," "Take ya home" and more from his LP. Before Bow Wow left the stage bringing his performance to a close, he did his signature dance...the Crew walk for the New England fans.

Bringing the show to a close was Murder Inc's Ja Rule, Irv Gotti, and new recording artist Pras of hiphop and R&B. Ashanti. Members of the crowd cried with energy as Ja Rule graced the stage performing hits from his past and present LPs.

Special guest Charles Washington was able to steal the spotlight from Ja Rule, performing the hook track from, "Down A B*", Ja Rule dedicated "We Cried," to all of the fallen soldiers and for the ones that we lost along the way in the industry Le' Briggz, 2pac, Aaliyah, and Big Pun. While performing one of his greatest hits "Ain't it funny," the "Bootleg Turntable just broke down," Ja Rule's DJ stated. The sound went as well as the DJ announced it was a bad cable. The crowd went crazy and started chanting, "Take off your shirt and Fix ths th" recording artist Ja Rule and stage hands. But, Murder Inc's recording artists was done yet. The collaboration of Ja Rule and Ashanti drove the crowd wild while performing her self debut "Foolish." While singing new singles from her self-titled album "Happy," Ashanti is sure to make her mark with streetwise sophistication similar to the original queen of hip-hop soul: Mary J. Blige.

ALPHA SIGMA TAU

Well, it feels like summer is finally here! A time for Capri pants and halter tops, going to the beach, barbecues, and most importantly…summer vacation! We can’t wait!

We are looking forward to seeing everyone at Greek Week. It should be a fun time. Good luck to all the other Greek organizations competing!

Happy Birthday to all of our April babies: Anne Marie L., Julie B., Cristina B., Dana R., Dana M., and Heather M.

We would like to let the brothers of Phi Kappa Sigma know that we are thinking of them as they remember Chris Hayes this month. Guys, if there is anything that we can do for you, let us know.

PHI SIGMA SIGMA

The sisters of Phi Sig would like to thank Delta Sigma Phi for an awesome pajama social. We had a blast.

We would also like to thank Sigma Lambda Beta for their all Greek social. Good times were had by all.

Congratulations to our new executive board:
- President Pinky Patchell
- Vice President Katie Fisher
- Bunari Bobbie Lee Curry
- Tribune Emily Peardon
- Scribe Lisa Tenem. NPC Delegate Jessica DelGeorge
- Member Orientation Chair Meredith Aymon
- and Membership Recruitment Chair Megan Critelli-you guys are doing a great job. Keep it up! Also congrats to Kristy Brady who is the new TKE sweetheart. We are all so proud of you. We are very pleased to welcome aboard our newest sisters Cathy Hendricks, Kara Morra, Jill Fiannesi, Taylor London, and Kim Lawrence—you guys are great.

We hope to see everyone come and support us for the 8th annual see-a-saw-a-thon with 2BT. We will be see seeing for 24 hours straight for the American Cancer Society.

To our seniors we love you guys so much and you are going to be greatly missed. To everyone else good luck on your finals and have a safe and happy summer. Good luck to everyone at the Greek Olympics!

TAU EPSILON PHI

The brothers of Tau Epsilon Phi would like to welcome our newest members. Your hard work has paid off.

We also like to congratulate our new E-Board. Good luck to the Omicron class as you begin your journey. The brothers would like to wish Sigma Sigma Sigma Sorority a Happy Founders Day. Thanks for the decorating tip: THE BEST IS YET TO COME!!!!!
WINS OVER EMERSON AND NORWICH
GIVE TENNIS 'CATS
SHARE OF TITLE

by John Parente

If there was a year that Johnson & Wales’ tennis dominance is challenged, it’s this season. And after Emerson bolted to a 7-0 start, and Western New England beat the Wildcats a few weeks ago, it looked like JWU would face an uphill struggle to retain at least the regular-season championship in the Great Northeast Athletic Conference.

Though the GNAC playoffs aren’t happening until this coming weekend, the Wildcats last week made a statement. They’re still very much in the running to retain a title.

The Wildcats romped past Emerson, 7-2, and staked a claim to a GNAC co-championship along with the Lions and WNEC, all of whom finished at 4-1 for the season.

“ It was, by far, our best match of the year,” crowed coach Ahmed Hassan of the Emerson win. “If we play that well at the conference championships, it’ll be pretty tough to beat us.”

Indeed, if the play of Justin Parras at first-singles, Nick Daugherty at number-two, and Tate Rubenstein in the three-hole is any indication, the surging Wildcats may take the GNAC and leave the competition in the dust.

Parras, who was at the .500 mark throughout most of the season, started the party off with a 6-2, 6-1 victory at first singles—his most decisive win in weeks. Daugherty, who had been struggling a bit as well,
took the second singles match, 6-1, 6-4.
Rubenstein, one of Hassan’s crop of talented freshmen, won his match 6-1, 6-3, and the rout was on. Veteran Rory Samet, who is also peaking at the right time, took his match in straight sets at number-five. Aaron Carnegie, who is among the GNAC’s overall leaders in win-loss percentage, won his match 6-1, 7-6 (7-3), to give JWU the victory even before the doubles matches began.

But Rubenstein and Daugherty figured five wins weren’t enough, so they went out and buried their doubles opponents, 6-3. Marcus Skold teamed with Parras at second-doubles and ran off to an 8-1 win, closing out a very satisfying day at the courts.

Still, JWU had to insure its title by beating fourth-place Norwich, which they did, quite handily on Sunday. The Cadets were no match for the Wildcats. But Rubenstein turned out to be the show.

The ‘Cats had won four out of the five completed singles matches, and both of the doubles matches that were played, as Rubenstein battled his opponent through a marathon. The freshman had dropped the first set, 2-6, but regained a bit of momentum and earned a 6-3 victory in the second.

Gaining a measure of confidence and sustaining his footwork and ground strokes in the wearisome third game, Rubenstein fought from 1-2 down to an eventual 6-4 win. It didn’t mean much for the final score, but Rubenstein is sure to improve the chances of a higher seed in next weekend’s tournament with the win.

The GNAC championships will be played Saturday in Hartford, Connecticut, on the campus of Trinity College. If rain cancels Saturday’s action, the tournament will move inside to a location in Simsbury, Connecticut on Sunday.

SOFTBALL 'CATS REACH GNAC PLAYOFFS

After perhaps their best effort of the season, Johnson & Wales' softball team reached the Great Northeast Athletic Conference playoffs for the second time in as many years, and play Tuesday on the road in the quarterly final.

JWU came up with a huge run in the bottom of the ninth to beat third-place Emerson, 5-4, in the completion of a game that was called because of darkness back on April 5th.

Karen Thuerst's defensive heroics and the relief pitching of the impressive Laura Hutcherson were as much a part of the victory as the game-winning hit by Sarah Rainey. Thuerst came up with two mammoth plays at shortstop before Rainey delivered the Wildcats' 10th league win with a sharp base hit.

The Wildcats not only beat Emerson, but they split a doubleheader with Suffolk to avoid a first-round match with prohibitive Pine Manor, which won the GNAC with a gaudy 23-1 league record.

Again, it was Hutcherson, who won her 10th game of the year, and Rainey, who had a pair of hits and a pair of RBI to lead the 'Cats to the victory.

JWU dropped a 9-2 loss to Norwich on Friday, but insured itself of a berth with the doubleheader split with Suffolk on Saturday.

Coach Conrad Fecket's team has continually improved as the year has gone on. In Rainey and Danielle Marshall, the 'Cats have a pair of catchers who can hit. Tamara Zinn gives Thuerst in forming a solid defensive middle. Libby Johnson, Linda Yabra, Sheila Haver, and Stacey Quinlin, are a strong outfield quartet, and Hutchison and Kim Cey have handled the pitching chores quite well.

The Wildcats had a split with Simmons as well, in the earlier part of their critical week of 12 GNAC games in eight days.

Who the 'Cats will face in the first round of the GNAC quarterfinals is not known, as Emerson, Western New England, and Norwich are placed in the second, third, and fourth spots in the league race. What is known is that, if the Wildcats win, they'll head to Pine Manor on Friday for the GNAC Softball Final Four.

VOLLEYBALL 'CATS END YEAR AT FIRST-EVER ECAC EVENT

As they played some of their best volleyball of the entire year, Johnson & Wales' season came to an end last weekend, sailed with a bit of history.

After finishing their regular-season with a lost to a downright great team from City College of New York at the North East Collegiate Volleyball Association tournament, the Wildcats got some interesting news last Monday.

The Wildcats were selected to the first-ever ECAC Division III men's volleyball tournament. And, though they lost to eventual champ SUNY-New Paltz, the 'Cats went out with class, and admiration.

Four of the nation's top teams—JWU, Roger Williams, Rivier, and SUNY-New Paltz, were selected to play at 2002 NCAAs in what is basically volleyball's version of college basketball's NIT.

The Wildcats took the second game from SUNY- New Paltz, but that was it, as eventual tournament MVP Sean Riley, and the Hawks' outstanding junior, Beau Warren, created havoc as JWU gamely tried to keep up with the soon-to-be champs.

Lo Souhavong had 15 kills, including eight in the second game. The Wildcats had lost the opener, 30-26, but took the second by the same count. Souhavong and Dennis Cardozo had helped the 'Cats stay close in the first, but the teamwork paid dividends as the 'Cats broke from a 16-16 tie and edged out four on their way to the second-game win.

But SUNY New Paltz took advantage of nine errors in the third game and took back the momentum, winning, 30-19. The Hawks finished off the 'Cats with a 30-24 win, then cruised past Roger Williams, three-set.

As was the case with SUNY New Paltz, the Wildcats lost to City College of New York because they were just a little taller, and a little deeper than JWU. CCNY ended JWU's dream of winning the NECVA on their own court as they just bow down the 'Cats. Still, Johnson & Wales played spirited, never-say-die volleyball, and incorporated a whopping total of 24 ties into the first two games of the match.

Cardozo, who was named to the all-tournament team, had 16 kills, ten in the second game, and five blocks. Drew Mann had 14 kills and Souhavong had 12 kills, and Jay Bouchard had 11, against CCNY.

Cardozo, Drew the winner of the remarkable return to the court and played well throughout his senior season, and Raj Dhokra, who was once again one of the nation's leaders in assists, played their final games for the Wildcats at the ECACs. Dikhari, in fact, set a new JWU record for assists in a three-game match with 60 against CCNY.
Baseball 'CATS Roll on; Eye GNAC Tournament

by John Parente

Though their focus is, without question, on the Great Northeast Athletic Conference tournament—an event they'll host at Pierce Field this week—the Johnson & Wales baseball team can't help but notice that their season could become a rather memorable one.

The Wildcats won a season-record 20th game by beating Salve Regina, 9-6, after clinching home-field advantage for the GNAC playoffs.

Mike Hall won his fourth straight game, backed by an increasingly potent offense. Chris Guarino had three hits, including a two-run home run. Eric Cariner, Pablo Carabello, and Jason Aonol each had a pair of hits, as the Wildcats came from a 4-1 deficit in the fifth and bunched eight runs in a three-inning spurt.

Hall went six-plus innings, and walked just one while striking out six. Rob Whitten came on and relieved Hall, picking up his first save of the year, allowing just a pair of hits over two and two-thirds innings.

After splitting a critical GNAC doubleheader with Albertus Magnus last Friday, the Wildcats earned a home-field advantage for the quarterfinals of the conference tournament when they beat Daniel Webster twice on Saturday.

But it was whizzer-close. The Wildcats had just one hit in the second game of their doubleheader with DWC. In fact, the 'Cats, who didn't get a hit through all seven regulation innings, were in a scoreless deadlock with an Eagle team that JWU unceremoniously dumped, 10-0, in the first game of their double-dip.

But in the eighth, freshman Mark Costello singled, moved to second when catcher Tim Hirsch walked, and scored on a mis-played bunt, giving JWU a 1-0 win and that coveted home field berth in the semis.

The Wildcats had blasted Daniel Webster earlier in the day, as Hall had a pair of hits, including his first home run of the year, and four runs batted in, to support another fine mound performance by fellow junior and fellow Mainier Gene Tarbox, who fired a five-hit shutout.

But in the second game, the Wildcats' bats were silenced by Kurt Luff, the Eagles' usual starting catcher, who went seven full innings without allowing a hit. Still, JWU was in the game, as Wildcats lefty Dan Howard kept Daniel Webster off the board throughout the first seven frames.

Howard notched his eleventh and twelfth strikeouts of the day in the top of the eighth, sending his mates to the plate. Costello broke up Luff's no-hitter with a sharp single, and moved to second when Hirsch walked. Up stepped Herbert Brown, who was called upon to bunt. That, he did with ease, but the Eagles failed to field the ball, and Costello was able to end the game, scoring from second.

The Wildcats had another big reason to celebrate last week. By beating Roger Williams, 13-7, JWU went over the 500 mark for the first time all year. Not only did JWU beat one of its three Rhode Island Division III rivals, the Wildcats also started to make a potential move toward landing a berth in either the NCAA Division III or the ECAC Division III post-season tournament. A total of 24 or 25 wins would quite possibly lock up that berth.

Ron Fougerey and Ben McCorkill held potent Roger Williams in check, while the Wildcats' bats took care of the rest. From freshman John MacKay, whose average rose to .380 and who became the GNAC's third-leading hitter, to Eric Cariner, who has returned to the lineup and has hit .444 since coming back, the 'Cats assaulted their East Bay opponents from start to finish.

The Wildcats begin the GNAC playoffs with a Tuesday afternoon (3:30) quarterfinal match with Norwich. The GNAC Final Four, which for the first time will be a double-elimination tournament event, will be hosted by Johnson & Wales at Pierce Stadium, beginning on Thursday.

If JWU wins, they'll take on the winner of the quarterfinal between Western New England and a yet-to-be-determined eighth seed. Suffolk and Albertus Magnus will play in the other game of the Final Four. The losers of the two first-round games play Friday morning. The action continues through Friday into Saturday, with the championship round set to start at 3pm.

Horoscopes

aries (March 21 to April 20): A sudden change of plans could lead to a misunderstanding with a friend or family member. Be ready to offer a full explanation of your decision. A pastfavor is returned.

Taurus (April 21 to May 20): Expect pressure from those who want you to change your position on a matter of importance. However, the distinguished Taurus will be able to withstand the bullying and win out.

Gemini (May 21 to June 20): It's time to stop dwelling on past disappointments and move on to other possibilities. By week's end, you'll be meeting new people and making new plans for the future.

Cancer (June 21 to July 22): A long-simmering situation between coworkers threatens to heat up and could create problems with your work schedule. Best advice: Consult a Supervisor on how to proceed.

Leo (July 23 to August 22): You might have just learned that someone close to you is keeping a secret. And, of course, the Cat's curiosity has gone into overdrive. But be patient. All is revealed soon enough.

Virgo (August 23 to September 22): Don't give up. The recognition citing the good work you recently did will come through. Meanwhile, an opportunity opens up that can lead to a lot of traveling later on.

Scorpio (October 23 to November 21): Recent encounters with stressful situations could require some restorative measures to get your energy levels back up. Talk to your doctor about a diet and exercise program.

Sagittarius (November 22 to December 21): New connections follow changes on the job or in your personal life. But keep your feelings hidden in until these relationships have a chance to develop.

Capricorn (December 22 to January 19): Pay more attention to your aches and pains, and avoid self-diagnoses. Seek professional advice to make sure these problems won't lead to something more serious.

Aquarius (January 20 to February 18): You love doing research and learning new things, so you'll be happy to know that education becomes a big part of your life at this time, and for some time to come.

Pisces (February 19 to March 20): Your Piscean penchant for doing things logically could be challenged by an equally strong emotional reaction to a new situation. Best advice: Keep the two factors in balance.
