ScholarsArchive@JWU Overview – Year 2

The ScholarsArchive@JWU is a digital showcase that provides open access to journal articles, working papers, dissertations and theses, and other creative works published by the Johnson & Wales University faculty, staff, colleges, departments, and students.

The repository is a service of Johnson & Wales University libraries. Research and scholarly output included here has been selected and deposited on behalf of the individual university departments and centers on campus.

It should be noted that Johnson & Wales University Library is a member of the HELIN Library Consortium, which is composed of eleven academic libraries and eleven special libraries.

This report covers activity from July 2007 – June 2008

Activity Summary***

This was a transition year at the administrative level. The library director, who also manages the ScholarsArchive@JWU, became the Dean of Libraries. This added responsibility made it difficult to devote a lot of time to collecting and adding content to the IR.
