WELCOME BACK FOR A FANTASTIC WINTER TERM!

I hope everyone had a great break and feels rested and ready to dive in!

Announcing Food Science Source™: A Database for All of Your Food Industry Information Needs

The library is pleased to announce a new addition to our database family this year—Food Science Source™. Produced by EBSCOhost®, Food Science Source™ offers cover-to-cover full-text coverage for more than 1,300 publications to support the information needs of the food industry, including academic journals, monographs, magazines, and trade publications.

Food Science Source™ covers many sectors that are integral to the food industry including agribusiness, food & beverage science, food packaging, food processing, food/culinary innovation, and much more! In addition, this database offers benchmarks and best practices, providing examples of food science-related practices from a wide range of industry players.

Food Science Source™ is a fantastic addition to the library’s selection of databases. Try it out today! Ask your librarian if you would like more information about this new database.

Reminder

During this January, we will observe M.L. King Jr. Day on January 17. Please note that the Library will be closed that day. We will have usual hours both the Sunday before and resume regular hours on Tuesday January 18.
What are you studying at JWU Charlotte?
I am studying culinary arts and baking and pastry.

What is something that your classmates would be surprised to find out about you?
I played drums in the marching band for all four years of high school.

What do you do for fun?
I like to go hunting and mud bogging when I’m back home; otherwise I like to have dinner with my friends and hangout.

Name one place on earth you’d like to travel to, and why
I would love to go to Nashville, TN. I love country music and the way it originated, therefore going to the birthplace of most country music artist would be amazing.

What do you like to read? Who’s your favorite author?
Romantic comedies as well as some science fiction and/or fantasy. My favorite author would have to be Jennifer Cruise.

If you weren’t studying in the field you are, what would you be doing?
Doing something else where I could express my creativity, most likely a type of art.
What do you do at JWU Charlotte?

I specialize in assisting students with securing internships in the Charlotte area. Majors I work with include culinary arts, pastry arts, hotel management and sports/entertainment/event management. One of the best parts about my career is seeing students’ transformations during their 4 years at JWU. Also, it is great to see how successful they become a few years after graduation.

What is something that your coworkers would be surprised to find out about you?

There isn’t much they would be surprised to know about me. I’ve worked with the majority of them for 5+ years.

What do you do for fun?

In my down time, I enjoy traveling, reading, and beadwork.

Name one place on Earth you’d like to travel to, and why.

One place on my “bucket list” is the Grand Canyon. There are years of earth's geological history exposed through the layers of rock. I imagine it to be breathtakingly beautiful!!

What do you like to read? Who is your favorite author?

Fiction all the way! Some of my favorite authors are: Dean Koontz, Stephen King, Patricia Cornwell and Janet Evanovich.

If you weren’t working in the field you’re in now, what would you be doing?

This is hard to say for sure. I would imagine I would be in higher educational feeding (foodservice at colleges/universities) or some aspect of event planning.

Welcome to our newest intern, Betty Thomas.

Betty is a Masters student in the Library and Information Studies program at UNCG.

While interning at the JWU-Charlotte Library, she will be providing Reference assistance, Instruction assistance, as well as providing extra support for faculty research.

So while you’re in the Library, if you see a new face, take a moment to meet our new intern.

A World of Cake:

150 Recipes for Sweet Traditions From Cultures Near and Far

by Krystina Castella  Reference Desk TX771 .C35 2010

Krystina Castella teaches at the Art Center College of Design in Pasadena, California. A bake sale was held to raise money for student scholarships. Students from the United States brought their favorite cakes made from recipes received from home. The international students translated the word, cake, into their native traditions resulting in a wide variety of “cakes” and sweets. Castella was surprised at the variety of sweets and at how the students loved telling stories associated with them. This book, A World of Cake, was the result of that bake sale experience.

Castella in A World of Cake explores the history of cake and the many international holidays associated with it. She covers the subject very thoroughly as she divides the cakes according to their texture going from creamy to chewy and from dense to fluffy. Castella takes time to go over the basics from mixing to the final decorations.

The most important part of the book is history she includes with each recipe. Castella also has a brief historical and cultural overview at the beginning of each chapter for each area of the world included. These areas include North America, Latin America, Western and Central Europe, the British Isles, Scandinavia, Eastern Europe, the Mediterranean, Africa, the Middle East, the Indian Subcontinent, the Far East, Southeast Asia, Australia, and New Zealand.

A World of Cake: 150 Recipes for Sweet Traditions From Cultures Near and Far is a treasure for anyone who needs information cultural and historical information about cakes.
