Foreword

In this world some things may waver and fall, but those days at Johnson and Wales will remain in your mind as a brilliant ray when the dull fog of strife is long forgotten. May this book help keep your memory bright.

Dedication

Because of her interest in the student body of Johnson and Wales and her interest in the "Johnsonian News" which wouldn't be possible without her willing, wholehearted work and support, we, the yearbook staff, proudly dedicate our 1956 "Johnsonian" to Mrs. Flora McCaffrey.

Administration

We extend to you, the members of the 42nd graduating class of Johnson and Wales, our sincere best wishes.

For almost half a century, Johnson and Wales has been training young men and women to take their places in the business world. Johnson and Wales has also played an important role in shaping the lives of many people. These same graduates have had a big hand in the growth and change of industry in Rhode Island and also the growth and change of Johnson and Wales itself.

We are extremely proud of our alumni. Their record is one to be envied by any school. You people of the class of 1956 now become a part of this illustrious body. You have high standards to live up to. However, with each new graduating class, our confidence in you young people increases. You have the basic technical knowledge and most modern business techniques which are necessary for a successful career.

Please remember to combine these with what our school believes to be the four most outstanding personal characteristics: Patience - Cooperation - Enthusiasm - Confidence. If you do, we are sure SUCCESS AND HAPPINESS await you.

It has been a pleasure to have served you. Godspeed to you in reaching a high goal in life.

Class Will

We, the graduating class of 1956, do hereby will and bequeath to the Johnson and Wales Business Faculty the following:

To Mr. Gaebe, we leave our empty pocketbooks.
To Mr. Triangolo, we will an attentive class with simplified Math books.
To Mr. Capp, we leave our strict attention to his next English class.
To Mrs. Dixon, we leave all our headaches to her future Steno students.
To Mrs. McCaffrey, we will our sparkling personalities to the future P.D. students.
To Mr. Cunha, we leave all our Income Tax forms which are hopeless to us.
To Mrs. Benson, we will a new record, "Dance With Me Henry," for her next typing class.
To Mrs. Troiano, we will the following poem:
A buzzer is a busy bell,
Which will prevent your voice to yell,
We know you ring it at the right time,
So here is a silent one to prevent crime. (Being late).

To Mr. Cushing, we will new Accounting problems to get the new students confused.
To Mrs. Chalek, we will thirty new students for her Speedwriting class.
To Mr. Hearn, we leave one dozen red pencils which he can use in correcting Accounting homework.

As individuals, we, the graduating class, will as follows:

I, Edgar Archambault, will to Jesse Motta my advertising book with all the answers in it.
I, Emma Asselin, leave all my kneesocks to a future student who has cold feet.
I, Aurore Blanchette, will my place in the Steno class to some student.
I, Marion Chudy, will leave peaceably.
I, Priscilla Carlson, will my calculating machine to Jake providing he gets straight "A's."
I, Elaine Degidio, will all my six syllable words I forgot to learn to some poor soul in Mr. Capp's next class.
I, Lillian Delaware, leave to Mary Lewis my diploma so she can graduate in June.
I, Adrian Fahey, will my razor to Charles Bridgewater.
I, Frank Fandetti, leave to the new typing students the ten thumbs on my hands.
I, Philip Fazioli, will to Mr. Cunha high dividends on his B. & O. stock.
I, Letty Flori, will new electric typewriters to Johnson and Wales.
I, Jean Gambini, will my gesticulations to the English classes.

- I, Rosemarie Hoffman, leave my English book to a future student.
- I, Dolores Integlia, will my part as "Kitty" in Johnson and Wales first AMATEUR play.
- I, Marjorie Johnson, will my calculating machine to Alfreda Salisbury.
- I, Lillian Kelly, will a new pencil sharpener to Mr. Capp.
- I, Annetta Lamothe, leave my Math book to Alfreda Salisbury.
- I, Joseph Lemay, will to Mr. Cunha a new canasta player that he can beat.
- I, Diana LaRiviere, do hereby leave.
- I, Barbara Lea, will my typing book to anybody who wants it.
- I, Rudolph Martini, will to Frank Fandetti my assistance in the future.
- I, Emilio Marocco, leave to the next student my patience of having to sit next to Joseph Lemay for practically two years.
- I, Charles Martin, will my Law book to the next veteran who wants it.
- I, Patricia McMullen, will to Mrs. McCaffrey a very easy dictation book.
- I, Kathleen Nagle, leave to some unfortunate person the ability to get up at five o'clock every morning.
- I, Robert Pacheco, leave my daily carrot to Mrs. Troiano.
- I, Dorothy Perry, will my English tests to anybody who wants them.
- I, Mary Quinn, will my speed in typing to Lillian Kelly.
- I, Roberta Romano, leave to anyone my white bucks if they will take the time to clean them.
- I, Antoinetta Renfro, will my typing errors to Mrs. Benson.
- I, Norma Robillard, will my Math Problems to some future student.
- I, Alfreda Salisbury, leave my typing errors to Joe Lemay.
- I, Charles Sarkees, will to Mr. Cunha's students the trial balance that didn't balance.
- I, Donald St. Pierre, will my extensive vocabulary to future English students.
- I, Mary Stanton, will to Jean Nichols my typing papers.
- I, Mary Vescera, leave all the headaches I acquired while studying to all future students.
- I, Eileen Viens, leave to some astute student all my secrets that I used to get out of school in order to catch up on the latest movies. (Now the truth comes out).
- I, Ernest Wilson, will my typing seat to the next student who is a speed demon.
- I, Dariel Whitcomb, leave my bowling lameness to anyone willing; provided they take good care of it.

"We"

Because it means both you and me, a lovely friendship word is we.
We hold the piece which friendship lends;
we hold the faith between two friends.
We part and parting makes us sad;
we meet and then the day is glad.

We know each others hopes and fears;
we share each others smiles and tears.
Friends of my own dear comrades true,
the better part of we is you.
