DEDICATION

In command of every vessel at sea is an able captain, but that captain must have a first mate.

In you, Mr. Yena, we see all the attributes of the first mate.

You began your career at Johnson and Wales more than a dozen years ago and have risen steadily through the ranks of Athletic Director, Activities Director, Dean of Men, Dean of Faculty, Director of the Reading Institute, Dean of the College and now Vice-President.

You have witnessed and been the prime ingredient for our continued growth. You have always urged your captain forward; you have always offered him sound advice, you have always been available to every member of crew — faculty, student, custodian, cook, to assist in any way you could.

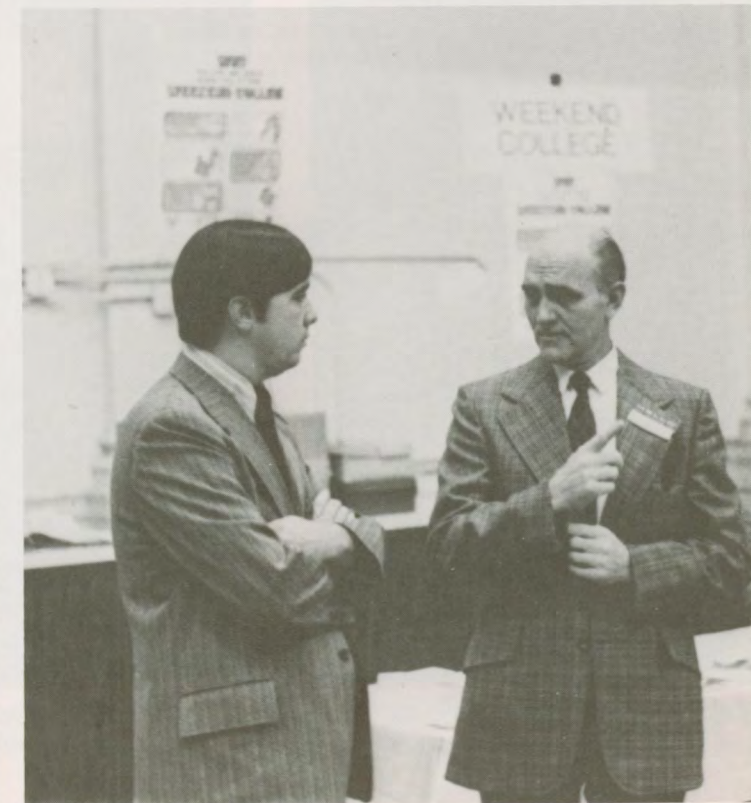

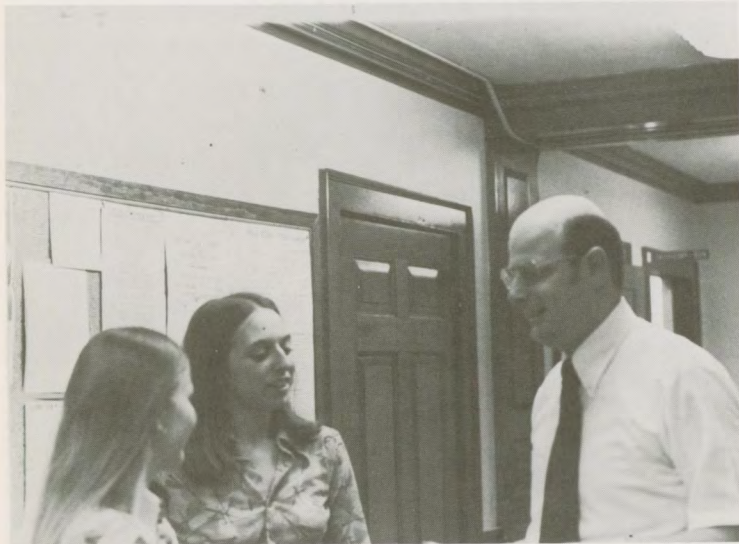

Not everyone with whom you must deal understands you. Those of us on this staff who have had an opportunity to work closely with you have seen your motivation — a truly sound institution providing excellent career educational training for its graduates.

We of the Johnsonian Staff are proud to dedicate this 1975 edition to you.

John A. Yena

Advisor's Message

Once again we come to the end of another yearbook year. I know it lasted only ten months; I checked this out on a calendar because it has felt like a very, very long year. To say that we had some problems would be an understatement. Fortunately, as in past years, someone usually comes through and takes care of the problems. This year was no different.

Joanne Robinson came to us at the eleventh hour and virtually saved the day. This is probably trite, but without her I do not know what I would have done. I must also thank John Levis for his reservoir of patience and I must thank my wife for the time she spent alone while I worked with the yearbook staff. Congratulations again to my staff.

John Flynn

Editor's Message

"If I see another copy sheet, I am going to scream," seems to be all I have said for the past few weeks. Now, after much hard work and hair tearing, we have come to the end of the yearbook and no more copy pages will be seen for a while.

Many people have been instrumental, and some detrimental, in the making of this book. Most of all I would like to extend my heartfelt appreciation to John Levis and Mr. Flynn for their patience and assistance. Also, many thanks to Ray Pinard, my predecessor, for starting and organizing this book.

Good luck and best wishes to the Class of '75.

Joanne Robinson

Best of Luck and Success

Class of '75
