1976 JOHNSONIAN
Johnson and
Wales College
Providence,
Rhode Island

I hear America singing, the varied carols I hear,

Those of her people . . .

Those of her cities . . .

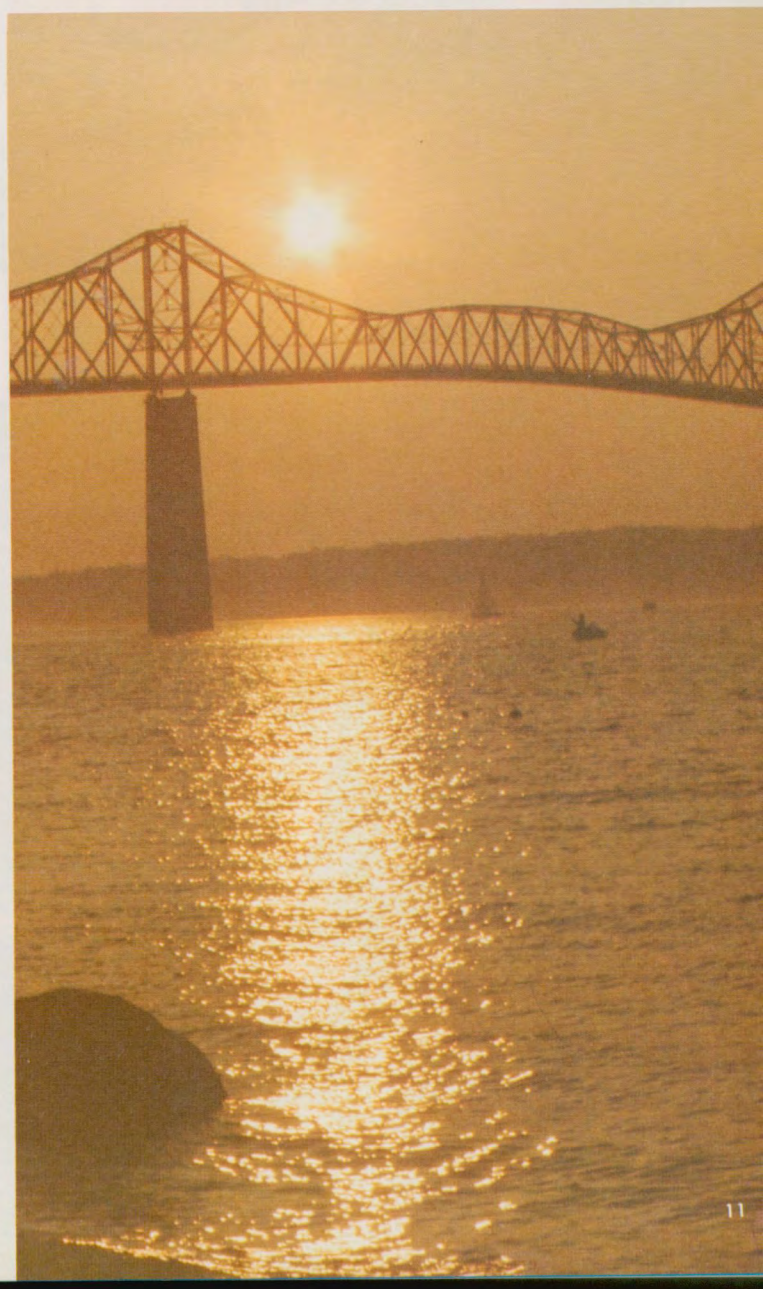

Those of her countryside . . .

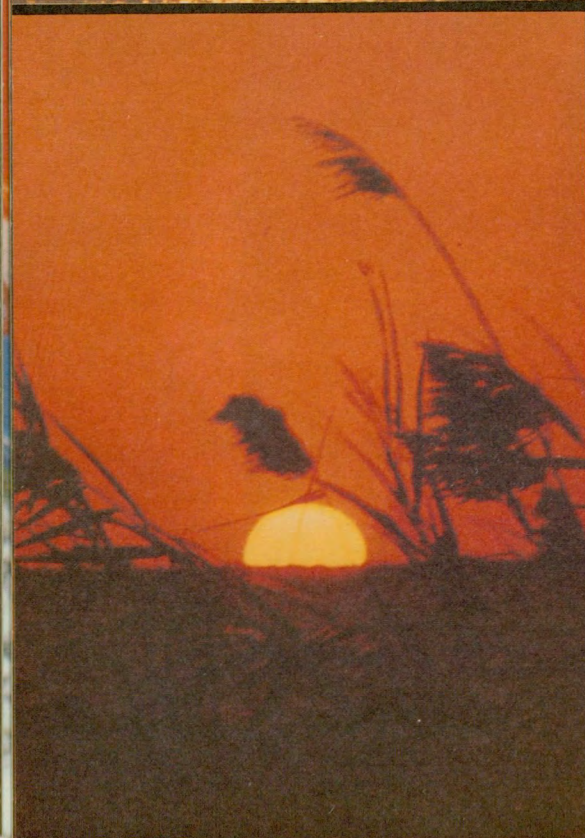

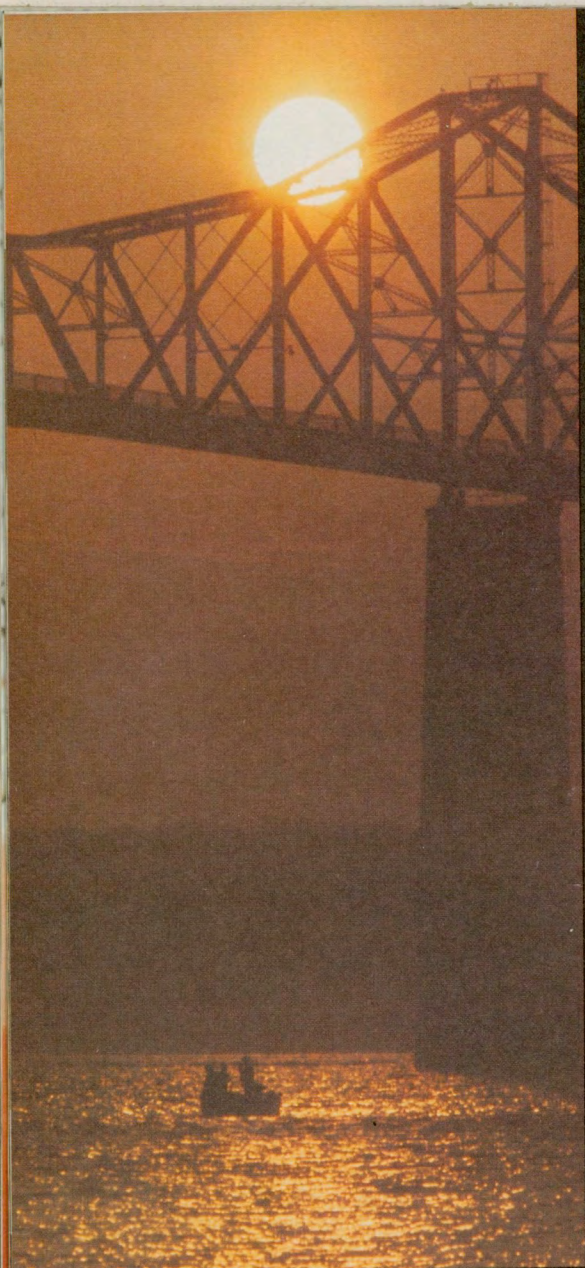

those of her seas . . .

and those of nature.

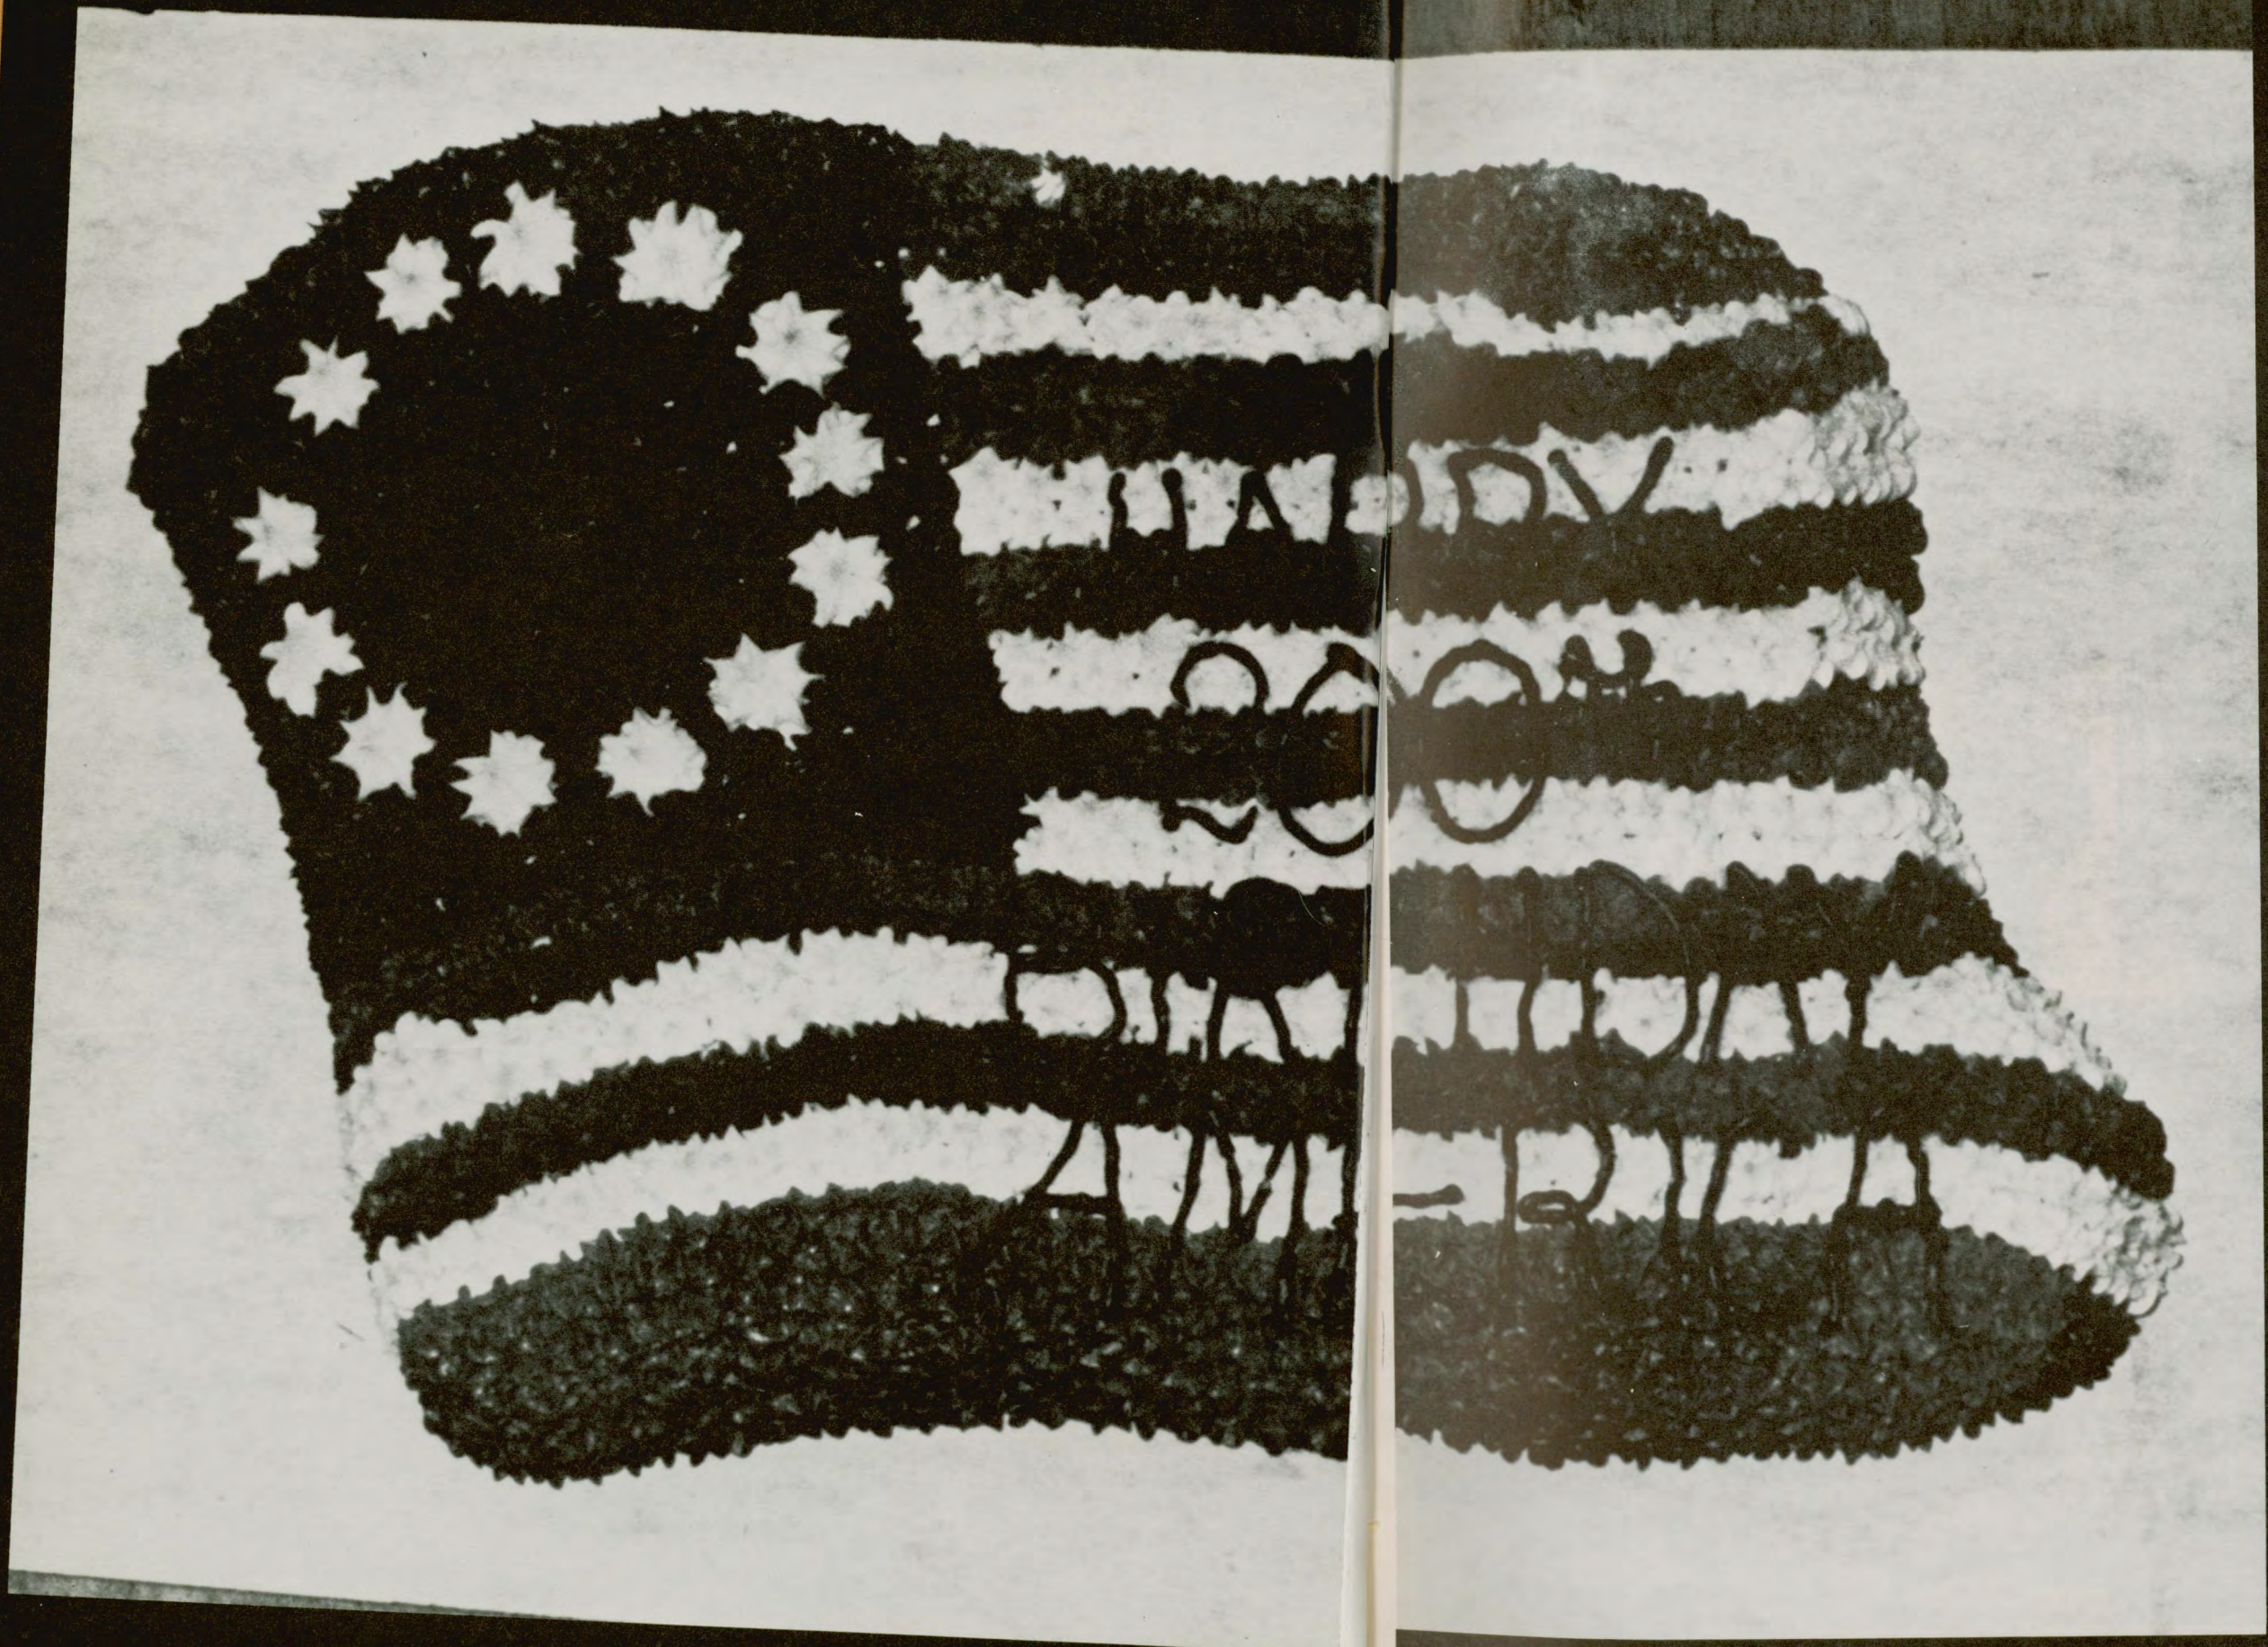

Each singing what belongs to her, and to none else;
The day what belongs to the day —
At night, the party of young fellows, robust, friendly,
Singing with open mouths, their strong melodious songs.

Walt Whitman

Dedication

On this, the 200th birthday of our nation, the yearbook staff would like to take this time to honor America, the land of freedom. All that we have we have our country to thank for. Because of our forefathers' beliefs in "Life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness" we are able to live our lives freely as "one nation, under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all." This year, we at Johnson and Wales College dedicate our yearbook to you, America.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY AMERICA!

SENIOR YEAR'S END

When we have reached this year and hour there is
A thought that should have shown itself and if
It has, have we examined well what this Should mean to us? Do we begin to live
A newer, fuller, more exciting life
That gives a sense of duty never felt
Before? Or has that unrelenting knife
That cuts off youth too soon, not ever dealt
With us? Whatever light we throw on such
Dear thoughts of senior year's end, however much
The different kinds of pains and joys we've meant Throughout these years, just think: Do we not get Once in a while, that feeling, sad but then
That makes one wish he had them o'er again.
