The Return of the Colors

This brilliant scene depicts the formal transfer of the historic battle flags of the Massachusetts regiments and batteries from the United States Muster- ing Office to the State Authority on December 22, 1865. Looking up Tremont Street — even then Boston’s leading thoroughfare — King’s Chapel, built in 1740, is prominently noted, and to the right stand the two buildings of the Parker House which had already achieved international fame as one of the world’s finest hostleries. Governor Andrew on the steps of the State House that cold December day said in part, “This pageant, so full of pathos and glory, forms the concluding scene in the long series of visible actions and events in which Massachusetts has borne a part for the overthrow of the Rebellion and the vindication of the Union.”
