The Gold Hill Inn

Family-owned since 1962

The ten mile drive from Boulder to Gold Hill takes you back a hundred years and leads you through some of the most beautiful vistas in the Colorado Rockies. Nestled beneath the Continental Divide, Gold Hill is remote from the city lights and city noise of the Twentieth Century.

At the center of this old mining town you'll find the log buildings of the Gold Hill Inn and the 131-year-old Bluebird Lodge. Renowned in the 1870s for providing superb Continental cuisine, the Gold Hill Inn again offers an experience you will always remember.

You'll enter the restaurant through a large rustic room with a high-raftered ceiling, log walls, and stone fireplaces at each end. From a massive wooden bar, drinks are served with old-fashioned generosity. Guests can enjoy cocktails or beer around the fireplaces or fine wine with their meal. A wide archway frames the dining room, cheered by another crackling fire and colorful table settings.

The Gold Hill Inn is an ideal place for weddings and private parties in addition to its regular 6-course gourmet meals, all served in a friendly, casual setting.
