ABOUT 20 RAILROAD

Our door first opened to the public on October 28th, 1977, several days after a wild "pre-opening" bash that featured a heavyweight electrician from Connecticut dancing the length of the bar, on top of the bar. Since then we actively discourage this sort of behavior, heavyweight or not!

And speaking of the bar, the beautiful 28 foot long piece of mahogany and beveled mirrors was moved from the Commodore Hotel in New York City to Great Barrington in 1919. With the advent of prohibition it was operated as a "speakeasy" until 1933, when with prohibition's end it was granted one of the original four liquor licenses issued by the town. So with all its handsome grandeur it has literally "served" the Berkshires both legally and illegally for seven decades.

Dinner "specials" are served every evening from 5:30, drawing on a wide range fish, fowl, meat and pasta recipes in a wide range of prices. Thursday nights those specials usually take on an Italian flair.

Thank you for visiting and dining with us. We hope you have enjoyed yourselves and will return to visit again. Incidentally some of those same folks who were working on opening day 15 years ago are still here to serve you today!
