Panchos & Blue Jeans cafe

Having grown up in a poor family, with an "Arky" for a father and a Mexican for a mother, I've seen my share of unusual meals around the house. Both raised in poor country towns, my mom on tortillas and beans and my dad on biscuits and red eye gravy, made for a whole new eating experience for everyone involved. Dad had to grow to accept eating enchiladas and refried beans, while Mom had to learn to make biscuits and that "stuff" Dad called "red eye gravy".

Both my mom and dad are great cooks in their own country. My dad was a professional chef and my mom is the best "true Mexican cook" you'll ever meet. Although they both can cook exquisite high class food, nothing can beat their "poor folks" food they learned to make growing up. I was given the fortunate opportunity of learning from them both.

All this brings me to the main point, the cafe's name. A poor family raised on poor country food (both countries), in poor country clothes (both countries). Thus the name "PANCHOS & BLUE JEANS", poor folks clothes from both countries. So get your spouse, amigo or someone from the next table to order from the "panchos" side and you from the "blue jeans" side (or vice versa) and try a little of both.

We take pride in offering you one of the largest menu varieties anywhere, all prepared to order with only the highest quality ingredients. We invite you to take your time looking over the menu, and if you need help our wait staff will be glad to make a few suggestions. If for any reason you are not 100% satisfied with our food or our service, please don't hesitate to let me know.

Thank you for joining us!!
¡Muchas Gracias!
