GOT THE URGE TO SPLURGE?

When the martini was first made in the 1860s, it was half vermouth and half gin. That ratio slowly changed over the years, until today when, if it is used at all, vermouth is just swirled around the shaker or spritzed in the general vicinity with an atomizer. Over time, spirit preference also shifted from gin to vodka. Now, armed with the wisdom only years of arduous research and development can provide, we assembled this exclusive list of retro recipes. Favorite labels have been suggested, but feel free to call your own.

BOND, JAMES BOND MARTINI

Stolichnoia Vodka, very dry, lemon; shaken not stirred.

STORMMY SKY MARTINI

Skyy Vodka, Blue Curaçao, Chambord.

CHOCOLATE MARTINI

Ketal One Vodka, Tangueray Gin & Godiva Chocolate Liqueur.

THE FRENCH RESISTANCE

Stolichnaya Ohrang Vodka & Grand Marnier.

MARTINI SNAP

Absolut Vodka & Bols Peppermint Schnapps.

KURANT MARTINI

Absolut Kurant Vodka & Blackberry Liqueur.

SAPPHIRE GIBSON

Bombay Sapphire Gin garnished with an onion.

TEENY WEENIE MARTINI

Any classic martini served & shared with two glasses.

Custom shaken to order & served up in classic stemware for extended elegance. So generous, they're served with a crushed ice decanter on the side. 5.50
